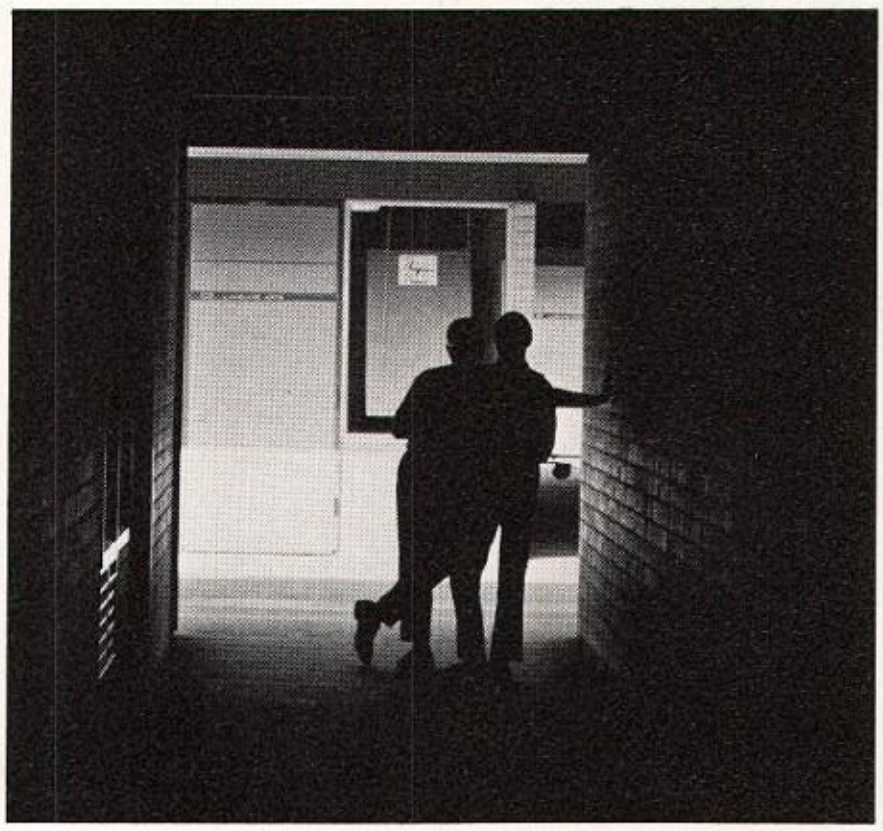
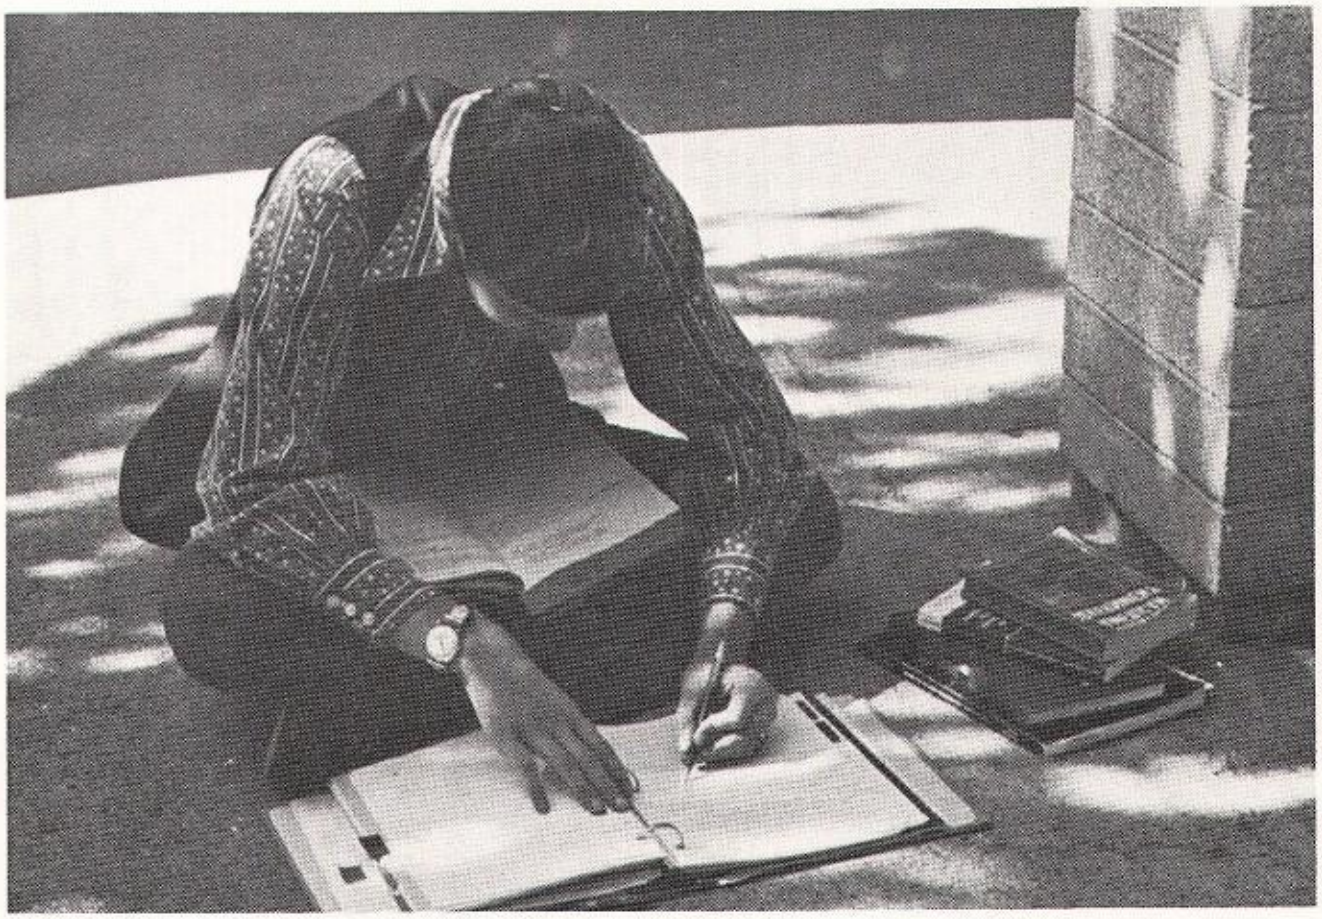
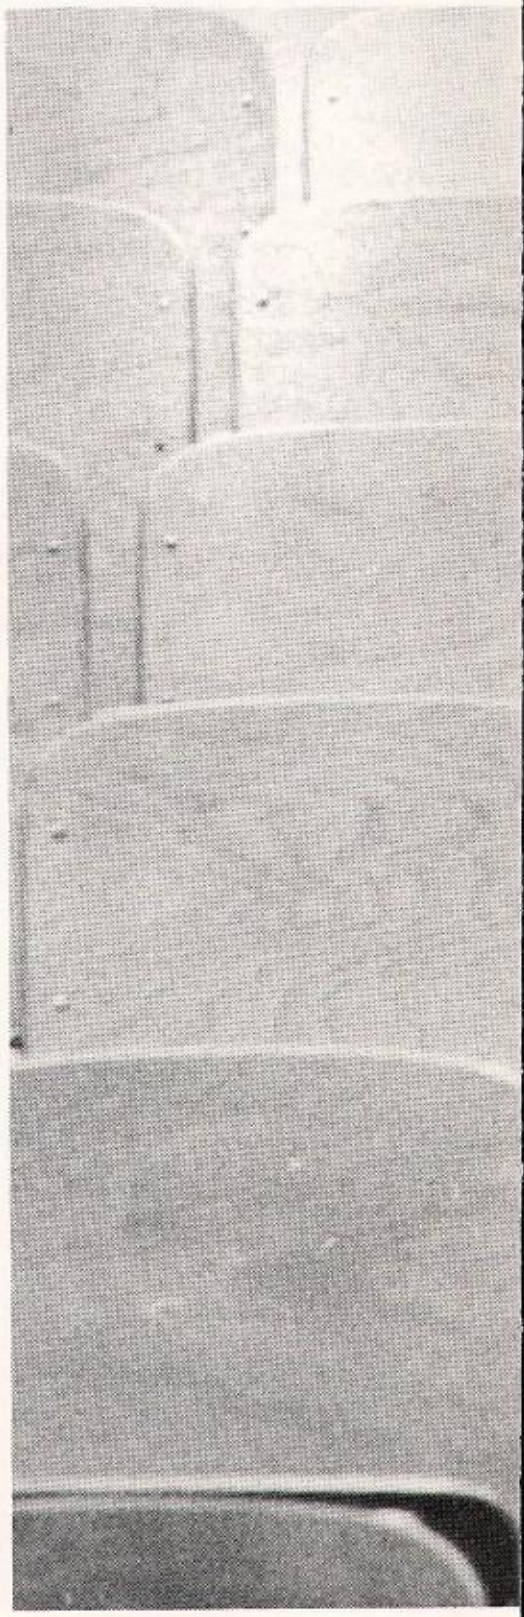
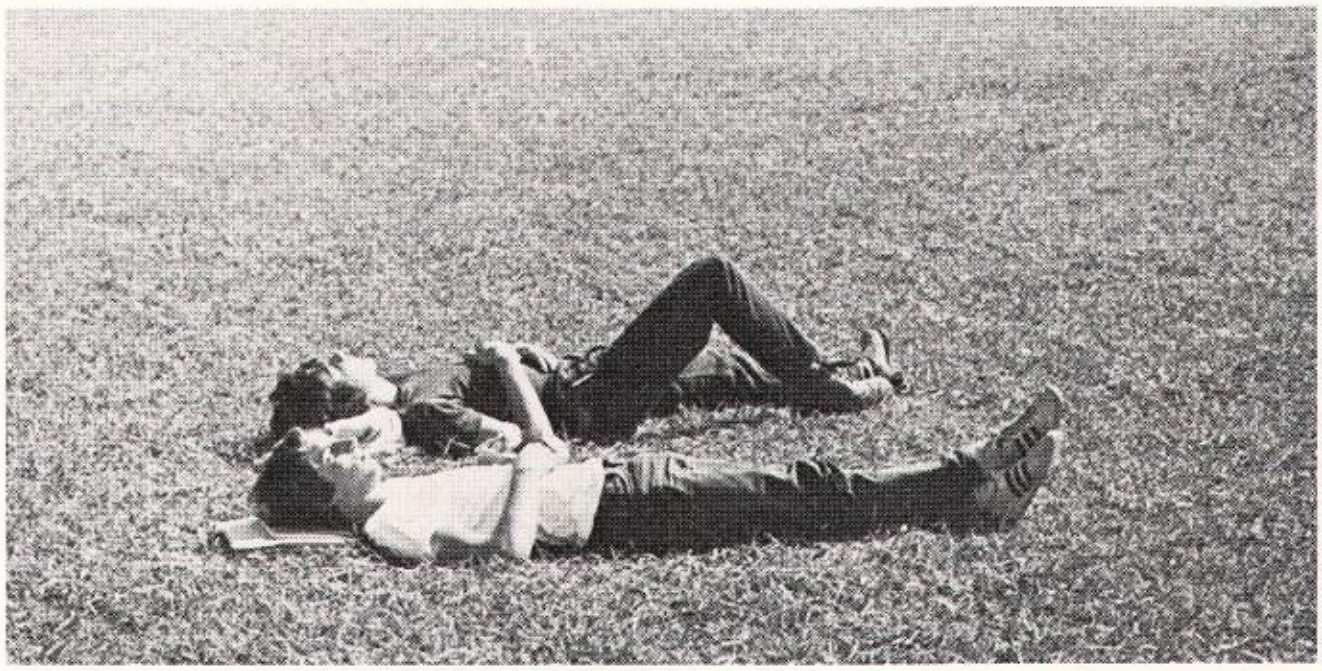
School life is more than the routine of classes; it is . . .

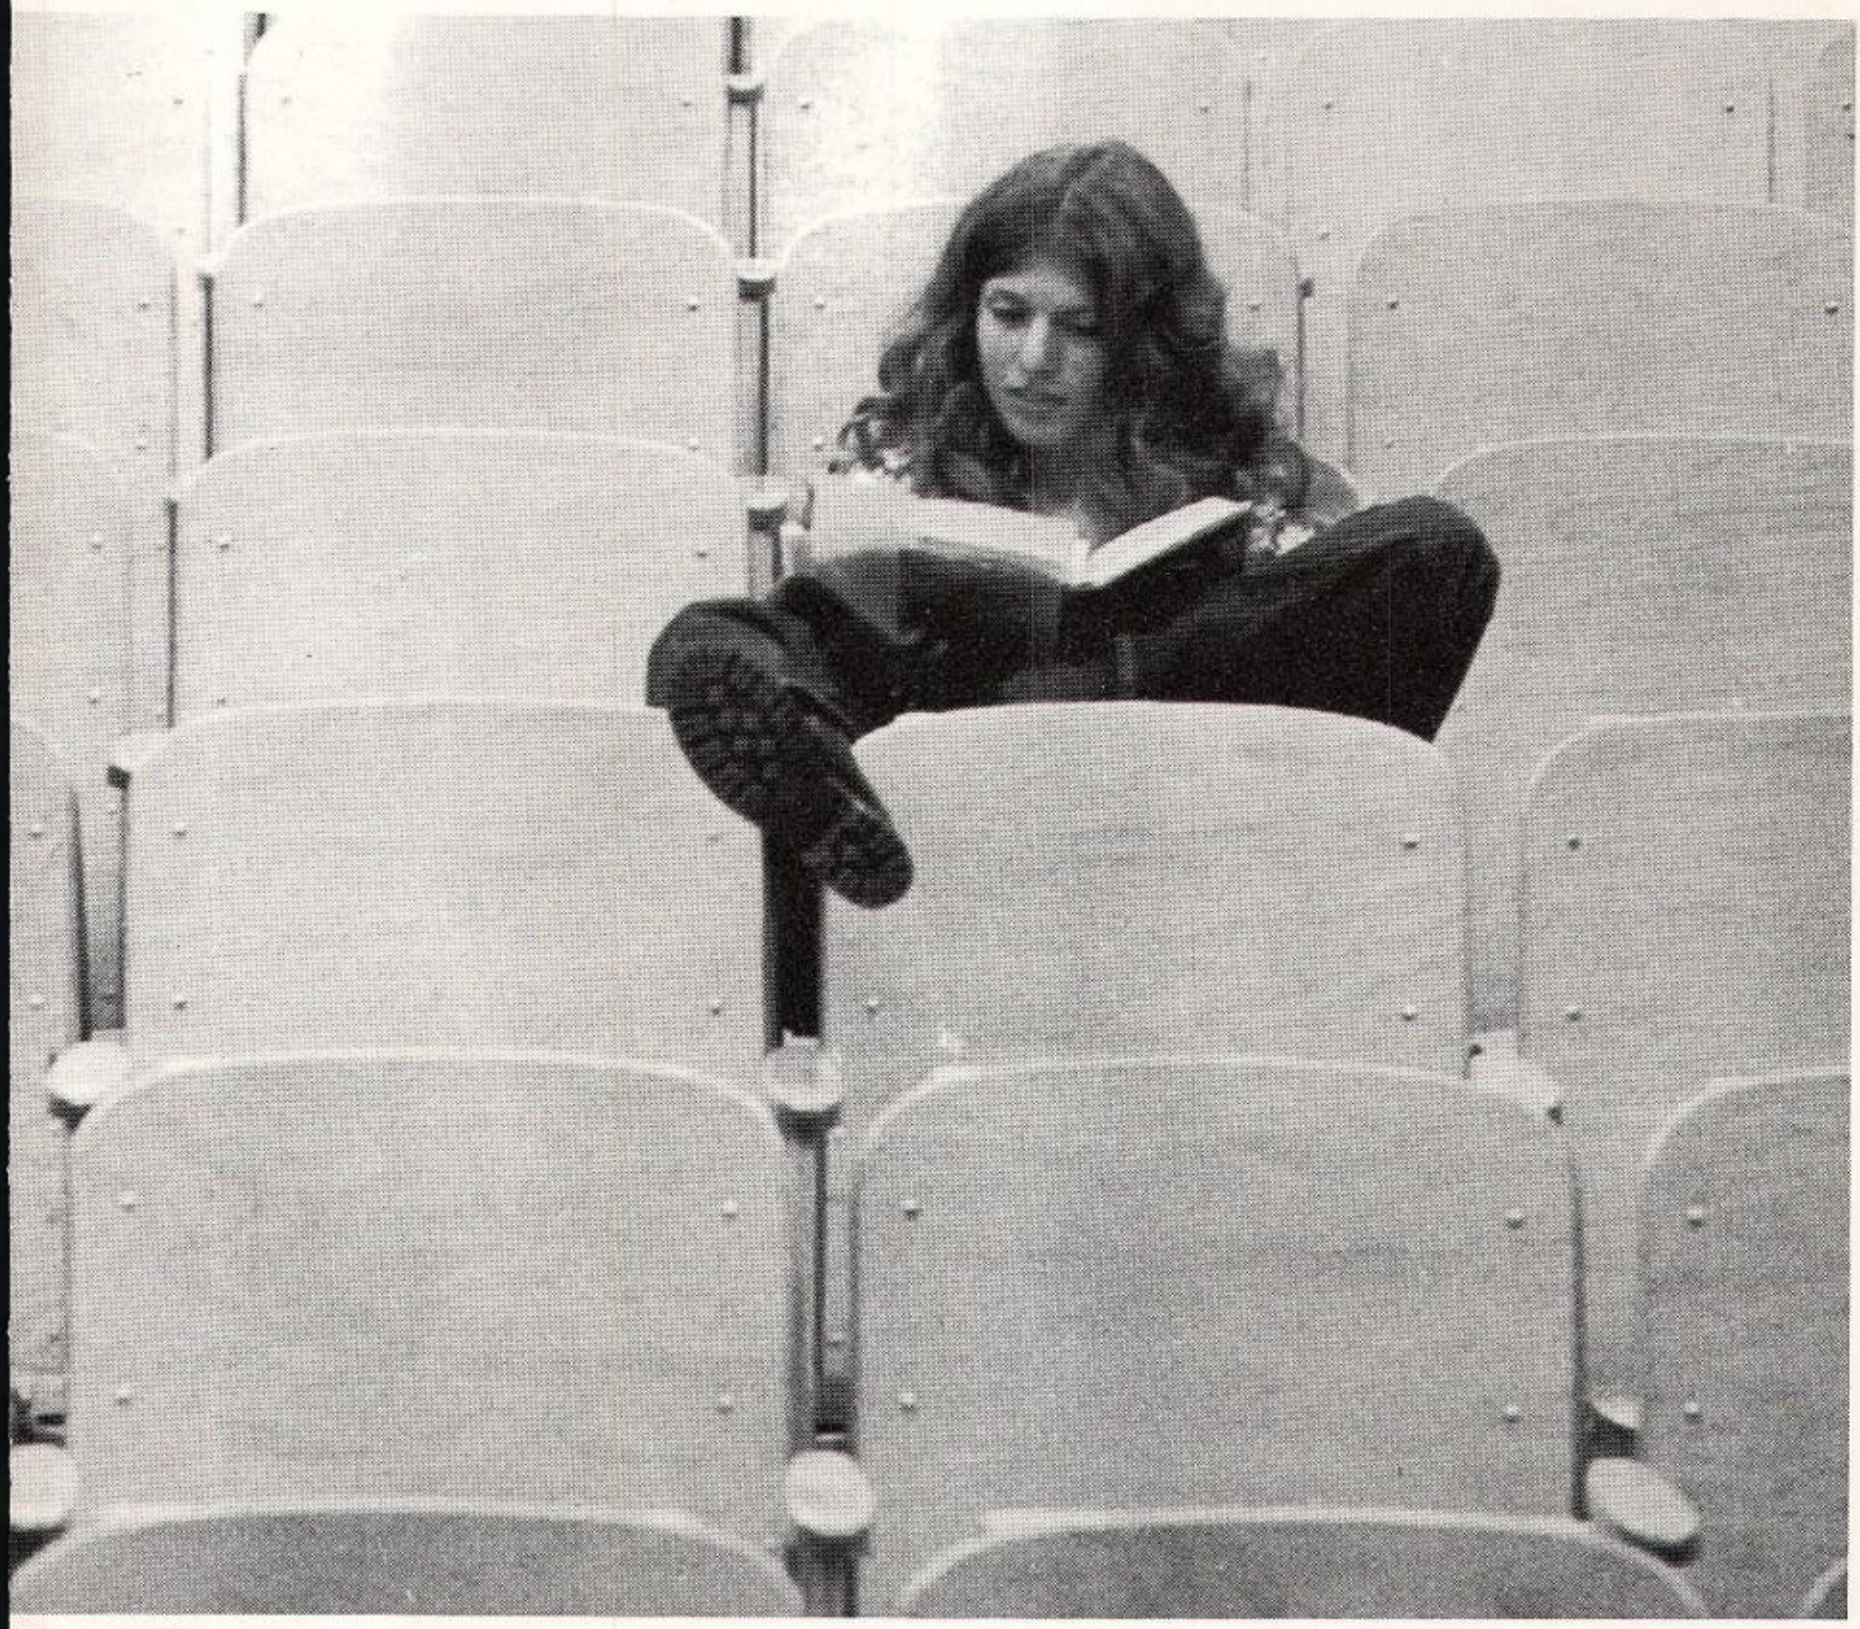


Learning the depths of your own mind,

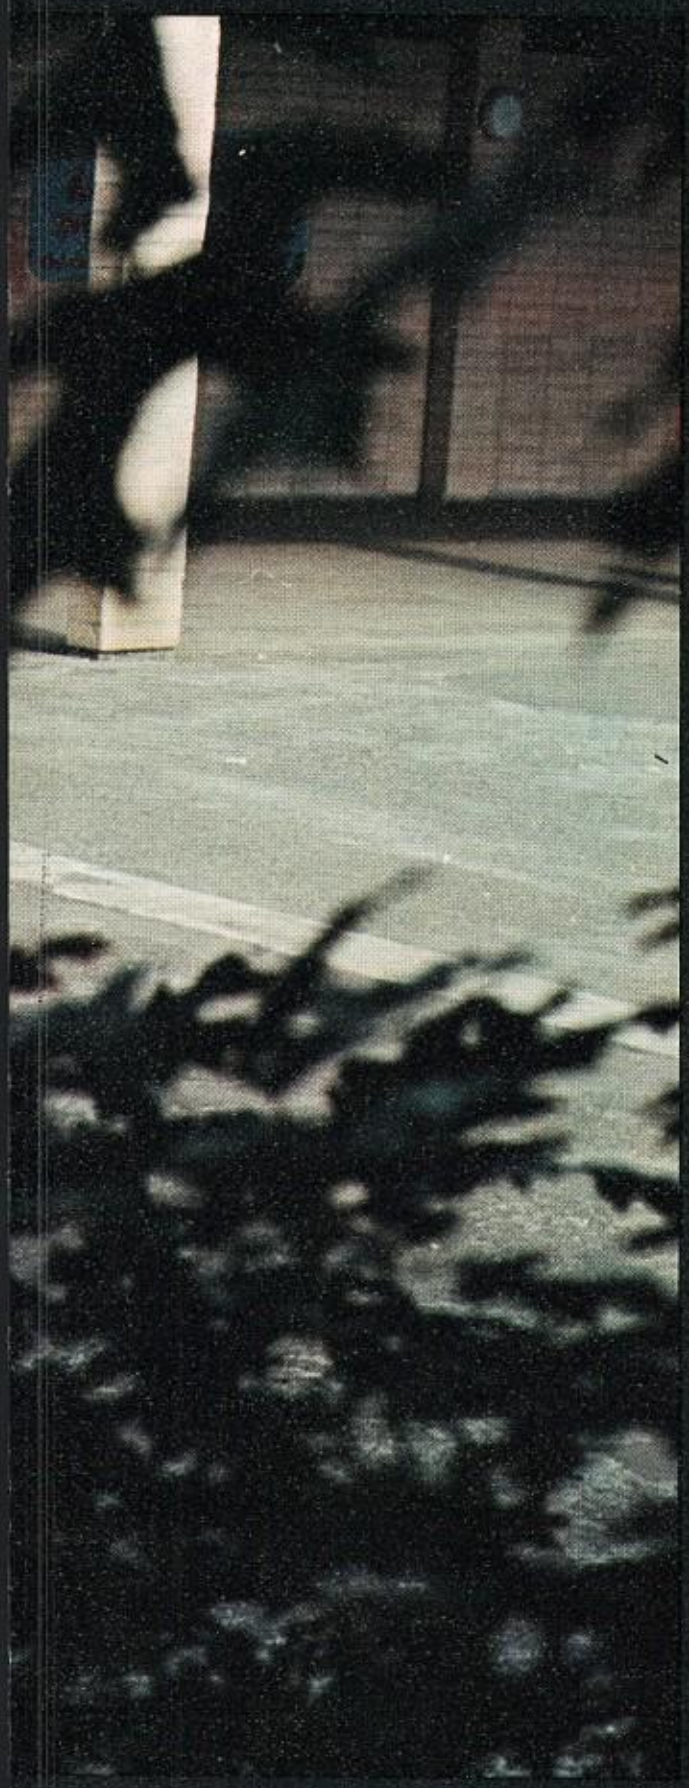


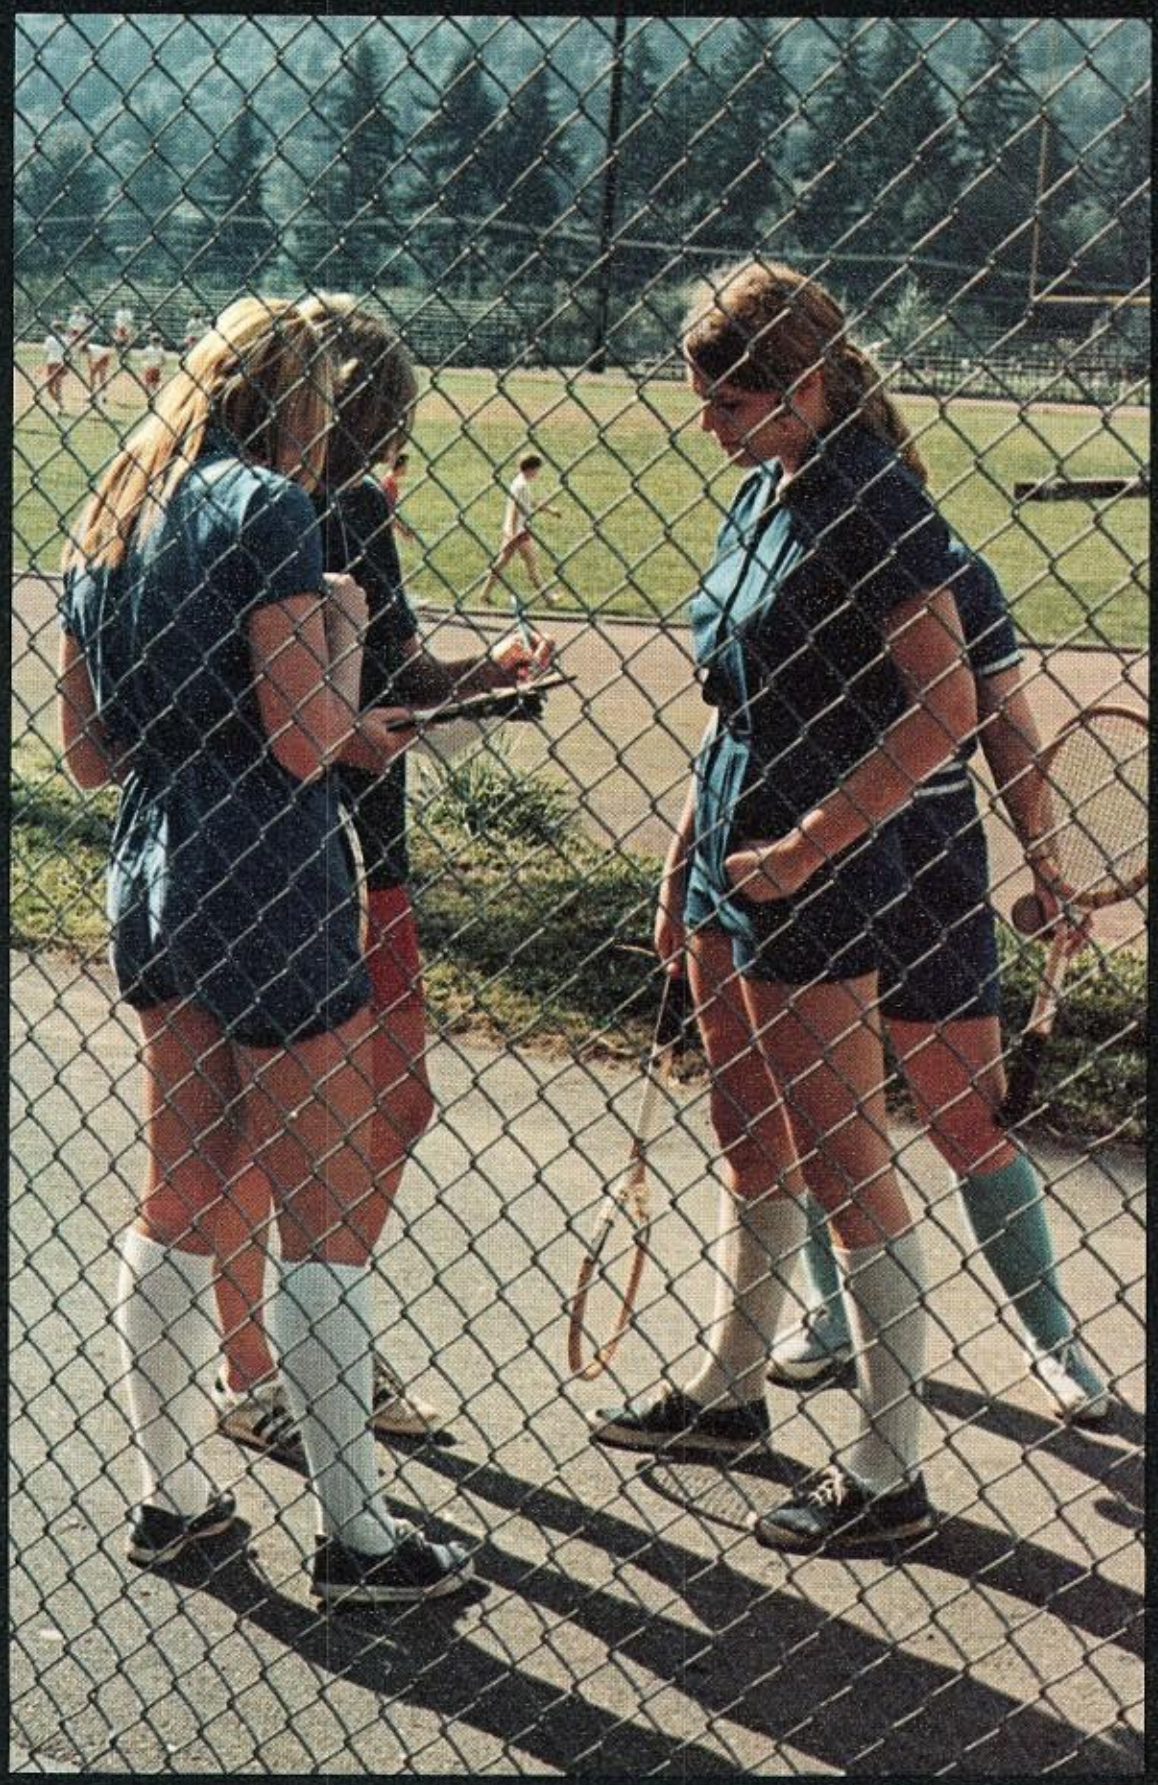






Living and relating to others,





Supporting the school through activities.

These memories are best remembered through the seasons.

Homecoming 1971 'Only the Beginning'

Wagon faces, apple bobbing, egg eating, pumpkin carving, bubble gum blowing, sign painting, float building, and skit competition were all a part of Homecoming Week 1971, "Only the Beginning."

Hard boiled egg eating and pumpkin carving competition between classes, sponsored by the Seniors, kicked off Homecoming 1971, on Tuesday, Senior Day.

Wednesday brought excitement and confusion to those involved in wagon races and egg tossing, sponsored by the Junior class, during the four lunches.

Sophomore Day, Thursday, produced more racing, this time on tricycles, and bubble gum blowing contests under the direction of the Sophomores.

Friday, proclaimed "Issaquah Day" proved to be the most eventful day of Homecoming 1971. A mid-afternoon assembly, featured the Senior Skit, winner of class competition, a cheer staff revolving around past cheerleading fads and school traditions, and the coronation of Sophomore Princess Kathy Sagedahl, and Junior Princess Dani Jo Mathison.

Friday night revealed the Juniors as winners of the various class competitions, and Homecoming Queen 1971, Sally Gillard.

Rounding out the week, Clear Logic performed at the Homecoming Dance, under the reign of Queen Sally Gillard.

Grub Tolo, Banquet, Introduce Girls' Club

Girls' Club began the year's activities with a Peapicker's atmosphere during school Friday, Sept. 24, which carried over to the dance the following Saturday night. One of November's activities was the annual Father-Daughter Banquet.

"Peapicker's Ball" was the theme for the annual Girls' Club Grub Tolo held Sept. 25. Couples enjoyed dancing to the music provided by Rapid Transit. "Marrying Sam" was on hand to minister short marriage ceremonies to eager couples, complete with rings and licenses.

The Friday before the dance was designated as Peapicker's Day. Various activities included corn cob and pea eating contests, guess-the-number-of-beans-in-a-jar, and dressing to one's own interpretation of a peapicker.

Highlighting the evening of the Father-Daughter Banquet was Nancy Stapnes, who sang the theme song, "To Sir With Love." Other entertainment included a father-daughter magic act, during which the rabbit got lost. The dinner, prepared by the school's cooks, was served by Shamen. Following the meal, everyone enjoyed a donkey basketball game in the gym.

Kay Ray was in charge of the Tolo festivities while Claudia McSwain handled the Father-Daughter Banquet committee.

Senior peapickers (1) welcome a punch break. Couples recite vows to "Marrying Sam," Mr. Leigh Wilson (2). Square dancing isn't a peapicker's thing (3). Couples "get it together" to the music of Rapid Transit at Girls' Club Tolo (4). Servers (5) prepare for thirsty dancers. The entertainment featured at the annual Father-Daughter Banquet was feats of magic performed by Mr. Donald Hines and his daughter, Leila (6). Everyone (7) enjoys the meal served by Shamen.

Cindy
Where have you been all year? I missed you! So . . . . next year, lets get some classes together, right? I hope you had fun being a sophy & next year should be even better! I'll have a super summer!
Hope to see you!

Sophs Present Love Stories In One-Acts

Three one-act plays concerning conflicts of young couples in love were presented October 21, 22, and 23 by the Sophomore class. The plays involved seventeen students in acting roles and many more in sets, props, publicity and make-up.

Tryouts began in mid-september and nightly practice resulted in a successful production.

Amy Somers (Shirley Hetland) Mrs. Miller (Karen Orr) Mrs. Bemis (Shelly Shaw), and Mrs. Curwen (Dorra Adolf) stand on tables, scared of an imaginary mouse. Betty Blodgett (Joan Ballough) tells her mother (Teresa Taylor), Miss Dobbs (Ryan Durkan) and her sister Lucy (Gretchen Rhynedance) that she has lost her voice and won't be able to sing. Gordon Johns (Bob Herold) and his wife Laura (Nicki Jahnke) argue about her wastefulness.

'Fiddler' Raises Roof, Brings the House Down

Four near sell-out performances concluded ten weeks of hard work on the all-school musical "Fiddler on the Roof."

Director Dave Dion and student director Sue Besecker pulled together the singing, acting and dancing into an outstanding production.

Tom Monk, in his third leading roll, played Tevye, a Jewish dairyman.

Assisting in art and in technical direction were Mrs. Janis Church and Mrs. Liz Hansen.

Cheerstaff's Spirit Moves Indian Fans

"We put spirit before performance," expressed Cheer Queen Judy Wallace when asked about this year's cheer staff. And with this kind of attitude and many practices the cheer staff went on to win the spirit stick at cheer camp last summer.

Other cheerleaders included Nancy Bernard, Dani Jo Mathison, Nancy Olson, Sue Roselli, Wendy Sneva, Sue Weber, and Yell Kings Vic Pomel, Bill Faiferlick, and Bob Freiheit.

Cheerleader Char Barker was forced to give up cheerleading early this year for health reasons, so Kim Kunnune was chosen to take her place.

School spirit was increased through the efforts of both the Pep Club and Drill Team. The enthusiastic girls in both the clubs supported the teams with signs, pep, and half-time entertainment.

Pep Club was led by President Linda Nohavec and advisor Miss Linda Thompson. The girls devoted time to painting signs, sponsoring a dance, making cakes for the teams, and showing up at all the games to help create a spirited atmosphere.

Drill Team became a class during the second trimester, taught by the team's advisor, Mrs. Cindy Tomchick. Co-captains, Sue Grisham and Sheri Schell, led the I-Ettes in entertaining half-time shows and other activities, such as sending Valograms and joining with the Senior Class to present the first Dance Marathon.

Inexperience Rattles Gridiron 'Twenty-Two'

The 1971 football season turned out to be one of the most disappointing in recent years for the Indian gridders. The team suffered five consecutive defeats at the season's close and slipped to a 3-7 record for the season, the first losing season the Tribe has produced since Gary Moore took over as head coach five years ago.

The Indians were tabbed to once again contend for the conference title and showed an exciting passing offense in the early games, including a 28-20 upset of 2nd place Newport. The club, however, could not combine their offensive heroics with the flashes of defensive brilliance, and plodded through the last half of the season. The squad also dropped the Homecoming contest for the first time in six years and absorbed their first loss in history to Redmond. The club rallied for a grand performance against the league champ Mercer Island in the season finale but a late Issaquah drive fell short with Mercer escaping with a 14-8 decision.

Junior Quarterback Dan Graham was the kingpin of the club's offensive team and established a number of school records despite a late season slump. Running backs Greg Quinn and John Russell combined with Art Galloway to bolster the rushing attack while Garry Anderson, Bob Ross, and Stu Johnson were Graham's favorite targets. The line was led by outstanding play of Jon Erickson, Tom O'Keefe, Prudent Peltier, Tim Reid, Gary Aden, Larry Backstrom and Jack Snedecker.

On defense the Indians were plagued by inconsistency, but Erickson, Backstrom, Scott Marinella, and Don Hover all were strong performers for the platoon. Erickson was voted all-league for the 2nd time.

(5) Varsity line coach, Kevin Thomas, shows one of the many faces a coach can have. Sadly, this face speaks for itself.

The sophomore squad, coached by Dave Evans, Dale Hall and Randy Wood, had a fine season under their leadership. All three were dedicated to their work not only as coaches but most importantly dedicated to helping the young men of today

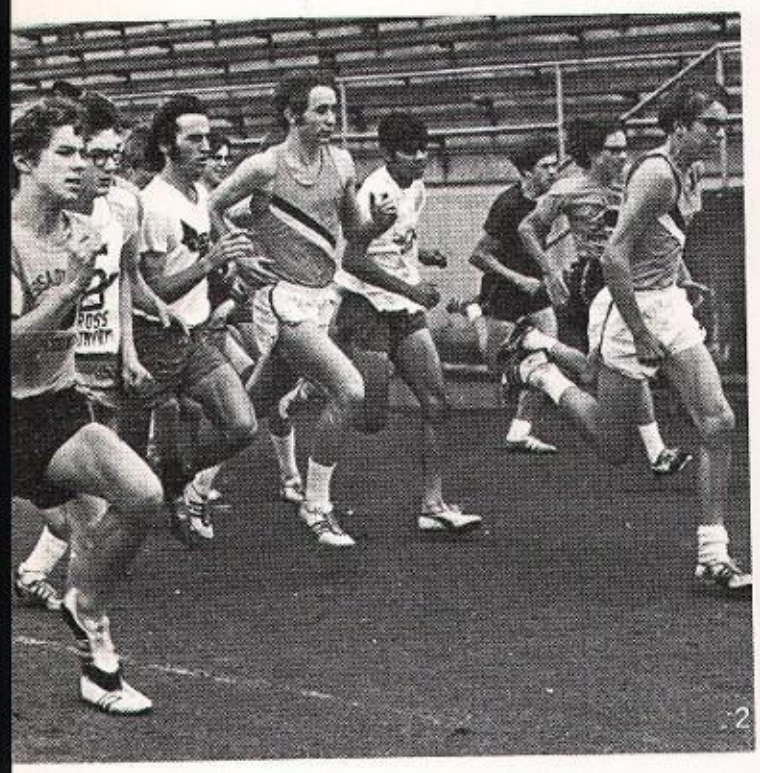
Harriers Finish 4-6; Build for Future

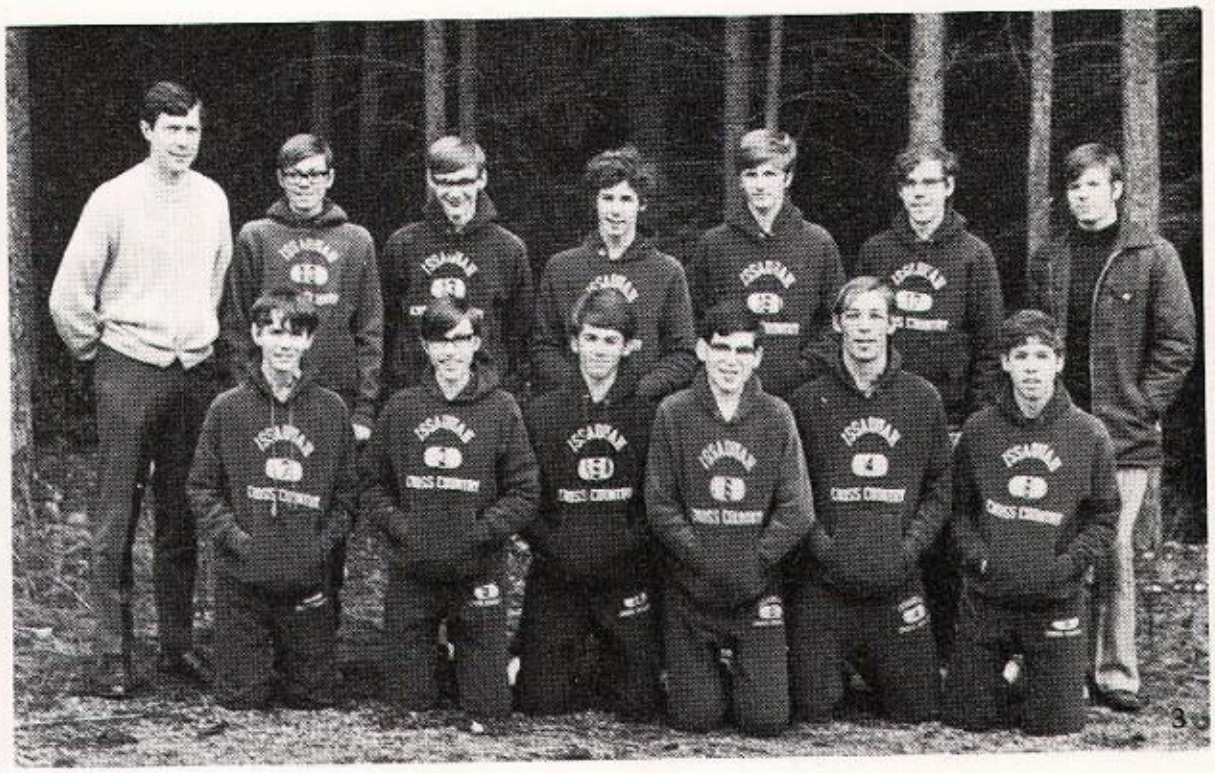
The I.H.S. cross country team did not have the success that it usually experienced in past years. The team was smaller than usual and composed largely of sophomores. But, they showed the effort and determination that it takes to create a potential threat in future seasons.

The varsity squad was composed of the top seven runners on the team. Brian Duncan, Randy Riebe, Lance Hymas, Pat Talmadge, Scott Stenberg, Dan Walker, and Paul Erickson ran in the varsity positions. The team ran under the leadership of their captain, Brian Duncan.

He was also voted the most inspirational runner by his team mates. Randy Riebe was voted the most improved runner this season. Pat Talmadge was the only runner to enter the 1000-mile club. This is done by running a total of 1000 miles between cross country and track season.

The team had a four win-six loss record this year and ranked seventh in the Kingco Conference. The cheerleaders and yell kings provided constant inspiration and support.





Pat Talmadge (1) comes through the finish gate in a meet with Bothell and Interlake. Home contenders Scott Stenberg (2) and Pat Talmadge sprint for position at the beginning of their 2.3 mile race. The 1971-72 I.H.S. Cross Country team (3): (front row) Kelly Refvem, Scott Stenberg, Brian Duncan, Tom Robertson, Lance Hymas, Jim Alexander; (back row) Coach Ken Rudd, Randy Riebe, Dan Walker, Pat Talmadge, Ron Korsch, Paul Erickson, and Manager Scott Gouldsmith. Captain Brian Duncan (4), second place finisher, embraces teammate Scott Stenberg, who finished ninth in Issaquah's win over Interlake and Bothell. Randy Riebe (5) congratulates Lance Hymas on his third place finish in the Interlake-Bothell meet.

Girls Dominate Fall With Winning Record

Aiming towards the top of the King-Co totem pole, a group of determined and spirited girls, the I.H.S. 1971-72 Girls' Tennis Team, streaked through their first four league matches in winning form on the road to a 6-4 record.

Individual efforts by senior performers Leslie Tidball, Sue Weber, Laurie Nisbet, Barb Schoenmakers, and Mary Perkins, teamed with underclassmen Laurie Wescott and Jan Duffy, produced Issaquah's first winning girls' tennis team ever and became the only winning sport of the fall season.

Teammates judged Laurie Wescott as Most Improved, and Laurie Nisbet was for the second season Most Inspirational.

A Look at the News By the I-Hi Times

A lot of time, energy, and hurried deadlines went into the making of the 43rd annual yearbook. Under the guidance of advisor Joe McNabb and editor Kathy Norwood and with the co-operation of the entire annual staff, the 1972 yearbook developed into one of the best Issaquah has ever experienced.

The staff planned the yearbook in the spring of '71 and decided upon a seasonal theme, colored pictures, textured paper, 16 additional pages, and a mosaic pattern.

Our school newspaper, the I-Hi Times, was published by a select group of students under the supervision of Mr. Doug Simpson and editor Eric Swanson. Some of the regular features included: "Sports In A Nutschell" by Greg Schell, "Shaft" by Jon Threlkeld, and "Boy And Girl Of The Month" by Char Barker. Articles dealing with current events completed the issue.

The I-Hi Times (1) takes a short break from their regular routine of creating an interesting paper. Advisor Mr. Doug Simpson and editor Eric Swanson (2) review one of the I-Hi Times publications, looking for areas that could use some improvement. Jan Drange, Dave Rispoli, Ginger Cox, and Dave Keller (3) look over photographs to be used in the publication of the paper. Leslie Tidball points out a new addition on the bulletin board to her fellow staff members Eric Swanson, Greg Schell, and Vicki Bryce (4).

Student Body United Through Change, Reform

Student government this year functioned mainly by the efforts of the A.S.B. officers. Working under President, Greg Schell, Vice-President Tom Monk, Secretary Ginny Shinn, and Historian Celia McBride, worked together within the administration to help satisfy the student's needs and desires.

Involvement was also a key factor in the government, as many students participated in the Vashon Island Leadership Camp and the Ferris Exchange.

Earlier in the year the governmental system was revised into both Representative and Student Councils, which included more students and ideas for issues ranging from changing the nomination of the Homecoming Queen to a student smoking lounge. A Student-Advisory Board was also set up, linking the students with the decision-making school board. Traffic Court, under President and Judge Tom Monk, assumed more responsibility, including the handling of the safety check required of every vehicle parked in the student lot.

Perhaps the most controversial issue passed for a trial period was Open Lunch, which has been a major issue in Issaquah in the past years.

Officers Ginny Shinn, Tom Monk, Celia McBride, and Greg Schell (1) pose under their list of objectives and accomplishments of this year. Greg Schell and Mr. Tonstad (2) conduct a student council meeting. Student council members (3) discuss important issues. Greg Schell (4) waits to begin a council meeting. ASB Officers (5) relax in the student activity center. Some seniors (6) discuss the agenda of a student council meeting. Cindy Yourkowski (7) and Ginny Shinn (8) express their views in a student council meeting.

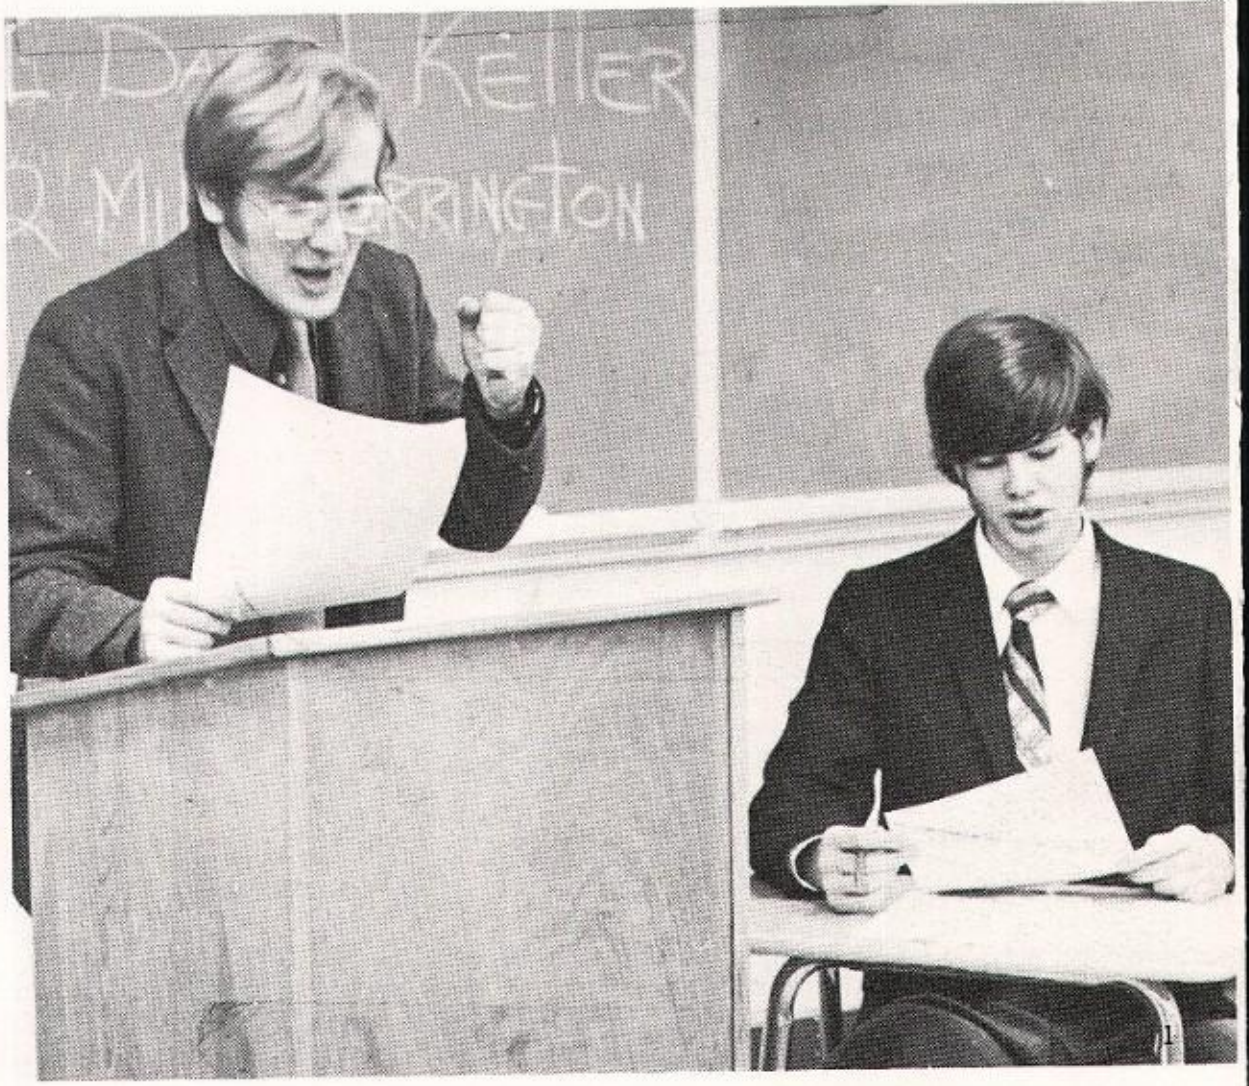
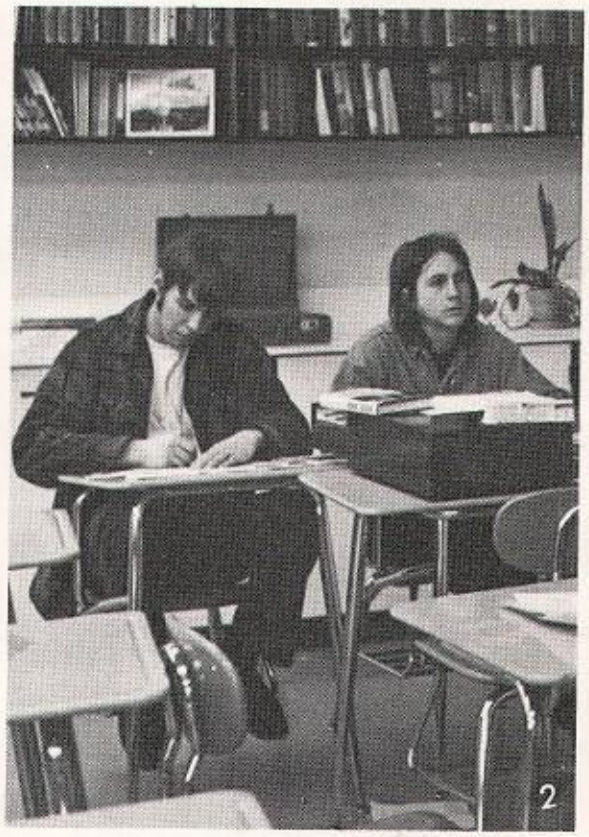
Jury System Topic of the Debate Tear

The Issaquah Debate Team was more involved than in years past. The team grew considerably with 38 students competing.

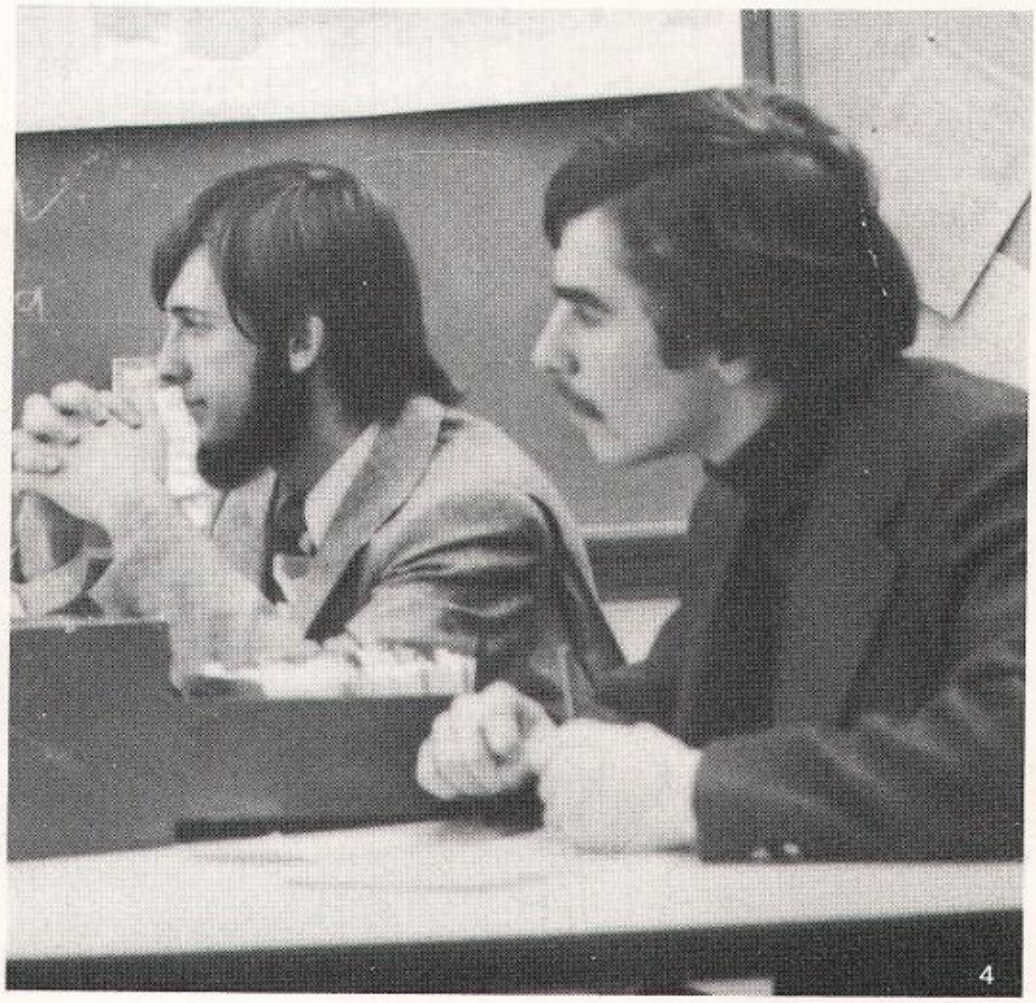
The students competed in meets, fighting over the topic "The Jury System should be significantly changed." The junior division came in 2nd in the league and senior division was 3rd. They also had many finalists in tournaments. The team was very successful for Mrs. June Phillips, debate coach.



Dave Keller argues his point while Mike Harrington (1) prepares information to help his partner. The 3rd period debate class (2) takes a break to have its picture taken.



Mrs. Phillips gathers together members of her 4th period class (1). Jim Cox and Mark Gilbert (2) find facts to use in their challenge. Mark Swanson and Tom Laitala listen as Martin Collier (3) adds an inspiring thought. Seniors Mark Benton and Jim Costa (4) together made up a great team.



Lucy:

It's been a really fun year. I'm glad we got to be such good friends, hope we stay that way cause next year's bound to be better. We'll have to catch you a Dale or Rob bod to hop on this summer or something else?? Who knows. See ya soon as schools out.

Sherry

Cindy, It's been so much fun this year. I hope we have as much fun in the summer and next year. I'm really glad we got to be such good friends. Maybe if we go down to Lake Stimmamish in the summer we'll see Rob too. Come up and see Sherry & I you'll see Dale. If you Trees Embarrasment!! Right? We'll have to get the same French Class together next year. OK? and maybe a more. We'll have to come drunk and/or L---d the same. That'll be fun. Huh? I'll be seeing you a whole bunch last day.

Love ya

Hard Work, Variety Make Season a Success

The Issaquah High School Music Department provided a variety of songs, ranging from "Let there be Peace on Earth" to the popular "Make Me Smile."

Their performances in different concerts and assemblies gave the choir a chance to display many of their talents. These were achieved through a year of hard work with their director, Mr. William Klein.

The instrumental groups, directed by Mr. Glen Lutzenhiser, gave the school much more spirit. Concert Band and the Symphonic Wind Ensemble alternated the job of playing during basketball games and assemblies.

The Orchestra, along with the choir and Hi-Tones, made the traditional Christmas Concert a great success.

Stage Band provided music for many pep assemblies and wrestling matches. They also joined with the Hi-Tones and Pop Choral to put on the annual Jazz Concert for the Issaquah elementary and secondary schools.

Parts of the music department went on tour, adding enthusiasum and enjoyment to the 1971-1972 school year.

Variety Of Activities At Issaquah

Equestrian Club was one of the smaller clubs with eight regularly participating members. Guest speakers, trail rides, and riding lessons kept them busy learning while having fun. By putting on three horse shows the club was able to sponser two scholarships.

Stage Crew was a select group of students who worked behind the scenes to set up the stage for school activities and special events. These students built props, learned lighting techniques, and worked the curtains, under the supervision of Mr. Dave Dion.

The Girls' Club had a prosperous year during 1971-72. They sponsored such events as the Pea-Pickers' Ball and a Dutch Treat dance with the theme "The Band Played On." They also sold Tootsie Roll Pops to their classmates to raise money for their club.

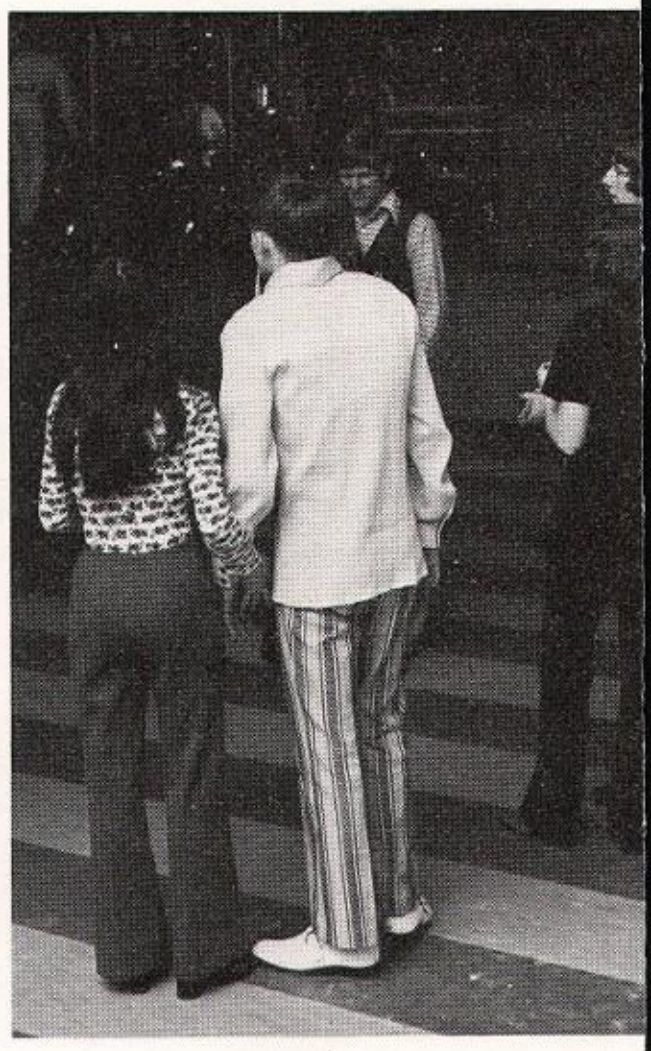
Snowball and Marathon Enliven Winter Scene

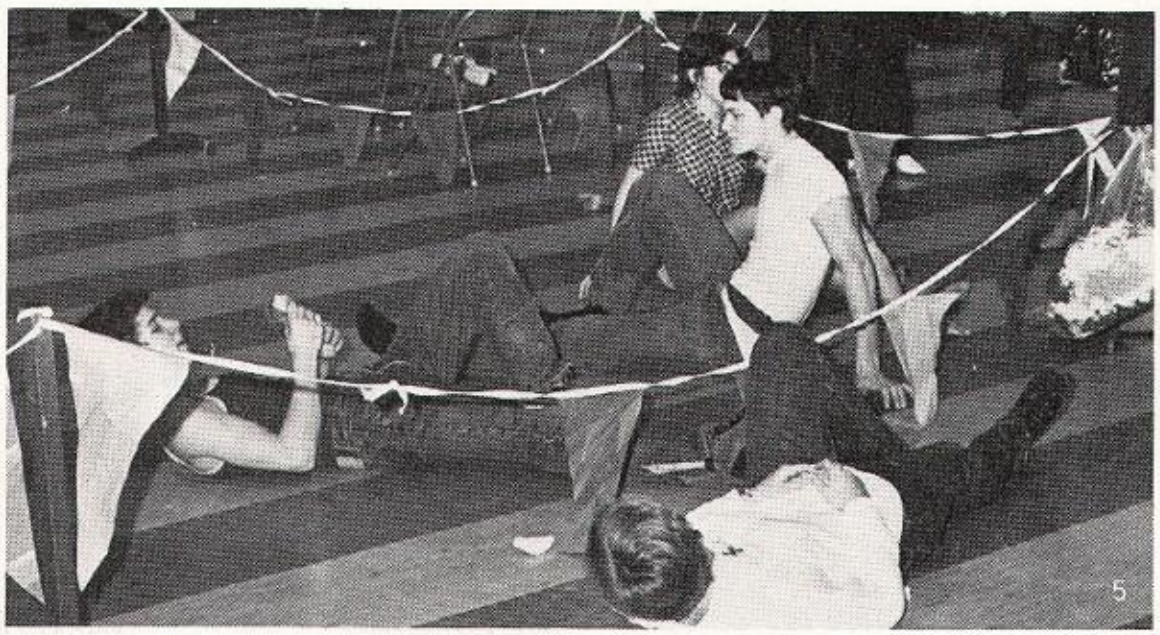
This winter the marathon and Snowball dance both proved to be big successes.

"They Shoot Horses Don't They?" was the theme of the first annual 24 hour marathon. Starting out Friday night, January 21, couples crossed their fingers and slowly began dancing to the sound of "Home." "Waxwood" took over and the 'thon continued. By 11:30 Saturday night, only six couples still persevered, and, by a judge's choice, Jerry Powers and Linda Ruegar won the endurance contest. Second place winners were Wendall McDougald and Melody Stratis, Al Smith and Debbie Kern, Darry Johnson and Vana Moore. Two other couples, Greg Schell and Ginger Cox, Mike Collins and Debbie Swanson, finished.

January 15 was a date to remember. The "Snowball" dance, sponsored by the Lettermen's Club, came off like a blizzard. However, it was quickly warmed by the music provided by "Clear Logic", the featured group for the night.

Although the Snowball was open to all high school students, the turnout for the dance was rather light in comparison to other Lettermen's events. Refreshments were served by the dance chaperones.





Clear Logic (1) sets the musical background while couples enjoy an evening of dancing. Keeping time to the throbbing rhythm (2), students boogie and find relief from the everyday pace of school life. Couples wait anxiously for the band (3) to prepare their next number. Senior class president, Tom O'Keefe (4), assists "Home" on the drums. Contestants (5) find time during a break to rest their feet before the band begins again. Friday night the marathon (6) got off to a good start. 'Thon contestants (7) briefly pause for a bite to eat. "They Shoot Horses Don't They?" (8) was the theme of the 'thon.

Senior Class Stages 'Miracle Worker'

"The Miracle Worker," a true story of the relationship between Helen Keller and her teacher, Annie Sullivan, was performed as this year's Senior Play. In the story, Annie struggles to teach the blind, deaf girl, Helen, of the wonders of the world around her.

Together, they accomplish this feat through many years of hard work and determination. During those troubled years, a deep and lasting bond was formed between the two.

Cast and committee members alike devoted hours of their time to the completion of the production. Director Mr. Gordon Warren commented that he was "delighted" with the final presentation of the touching story. He was assisted by Holly Watson, student director.

All of the roles were major dramatic parts requiring a great amount of effort and talent to portray the characters believably.

Because of snowy weather, the date of the presentation was delayed for two weeks, but in spite of the inconvenience, the play was well on its way on opening night, March 9. The outstanding play also enjoyed a successful run March 10 and 11.

Issy Gymnasts Take Honors In Regionals

Issaquah's Girls' Gymnastics Team finished the season with a 5 win, 5 loss record with the assistance of sophomore Gale Jeffress, 1971-72 all-around gymnast, and the fine coaching techniques of Miss Jan Olson, and Mr. Bob Bosse.

Issaquah proved to be quite capable when 10 girls made regional qualifications. They included Myra Aga, Julie Cox, Christy Coyle, Gale Jeffress, Jane Kearsly, Michelle McGraw, Sue Roselli and Joan Shinn.

In the 2nd division of regionals Gale Jeffress received a first in the all-around competition, Bobbi Miller a 4th both in trampoline and in bars, and Sue Roselli a 10th in vaulting. This qualified all three girls for the state meet in Spokane.

"Running Indians" Surprise in Kingco

The "Running Indains", as they were named by coach Rich Brines, carved out a winning season despite the fact the club had no returning lettermen. Led thruout the year by seniors Mike King, Mike Murphy, Paul Reynolds and Stu Johnson, the club proved to be a tough match for all. Underclassmen getting valuable experience were Glenn Leslie, Bob Ross, Ron Johnson and Art Galloway.

The season started off quickly with victories over top-ranked Blanchet and Redmond. After this start, the tribe settled down into what was to become a constant playoff berth battle.

Individual performances were indeed prominent with Mike Murphy leading all rebounders in the league. He also finished among the top-five scorers, along with team captain Mike King.

The J.V.'s were piloted by varsity assistant coach Kevin Thomas. Sophomores Mike Elstrom, Bob Fallstrom, Kevin Suther and Darrel Hanvold along with Juniors Dan Graham and Keith Orr carried most of the weight of the season.

A scrappy sophomore bunch surprised all by pulling out their first winning season in ten years with a 7-5 record. Coach Joel Clark's squad was headed up by team captain and inspirational winner Glen hover along with the team's leading rebounder Bill Hickok.

At season's end the varsity squad elected Mike Murphy and Mike King honorary co-captains for the year and voted the inspirational award to Mr. Kevin Thomas, assistant coach.

Mat Team Co-Champs; Mitchell Takes State

Senior Dave Mitchell wrapped up a brilliant wrestling career for Issaquah by reaching the pinnacle, the state championship in his weight division, 129 lbs. His title gave additional luster to one of Issaquah's top wrestling seasons, which included Coach Roger Wilson's 100th victory and Mitchell's record 50th Kingco victory.

Prudent Peltier took fifth place at State in the 185 lb. division.

The Issy grapplers wound up the season as Kingco Co-champions with Lake Washington, giving Coach Wilson his fourth seat in the top spot in his twelve years at Issaquah. The big victory in the march to the crown was the win over Newport, snapping their string of 28 consecutive league wins.

In the post-season Kingco tourney Issaquah won a second place with Mitchell, Steve Ross, Mike Norton and Peltier taking individual crowns.

Issaquah ranked fourth in the regional tournament. Ross and Norton won second places, Mitchell and Peltier thirds.

The season's awards went to the following wrestlers: Mitchell and Peltier, Co-captains; Mitchell, Inspirational Award; Mike Humes, Most Improved; and Barry McLaughlin, Outstanding Sophomore.

The outstanding feature of the wrestling program was depth. While the Purple and Gold varsities were notching an 18-3 season record, the two J.V. squads rolled to a 20-1 record and won the Kingco J.V. tournament in a walkaway.

Representing I.H.S. in the Japanese Cultural Exchange Match is Dave Mitchell (1). Here, Mitchell enters the third period in his victory over the Junior Freestyle World Champion. Coaches Les Harmon and Dick Munro, jokingly pick up head coach Roger Wilson (2). First in league, Mike Norton (3) works for a take-down. Gary Chevalier (4) is pinning his opponent in a guillotine. Prudent Peltier (5) works for a chicken wing on his opponent.

Keshani Provides Guidance and Service

Keshani, Shamen and CIHU, three groups of students devoted to public service for the benefit of the school and the people around them, were involved in a number of activities.

Keshani and Shamen tutored elementary students in the areas of reading and arithmetic, served at banquets, worked in the snack bar at wrestling matches and basketball games, parked cars, ushered at school activities, assisted in scheduling, and ran their organizations well.

Friendship through service is the translation of the Indian word "Keshani" and the club's object is exactly that. Their advisor was Mr. Leigh Wilson

The Shamen derived their name from an Indian word which means a leader. Mr. Dale Christofferson was the advisor.

In the spirit of movement, CIHU taught children to swim for the development of motor skills. Mrs. Jane Ekberg advised the club.

Sharon Hockenson and Joanne Huse (1) assist students with scheduling. Nancy Aust (2) learns how to instruct a "thinking third grader." Keshani Club (3) poses for a picture in the SAC along with advisor, Mr. Leigh Wilson. Dorey Orth (4) makes change in the concession stand during a basketball game. Advisor Leigh Wilson (5) looks on as Debbie Hall, Pam Taylor, and Melody Mallinger (5) have fun working in the Snack Bar at a wrestling match.

In order to get off campus when the open lunch proposal was accepted, each car had to pass a safety check. Scott Jeffress (3) checks out one of the older models. Lisa Bird and a young friend (4) rest by the side of the pool. 1971-72 Shamen (5) take a short break in their busy schedules for a little publicity. Blake Wilson (6), member of both CIHU and Shamen, helps a swimmer with his backfloat.

Cindy,
I'll tell you a wonderful class and buggy ride for a whole year.

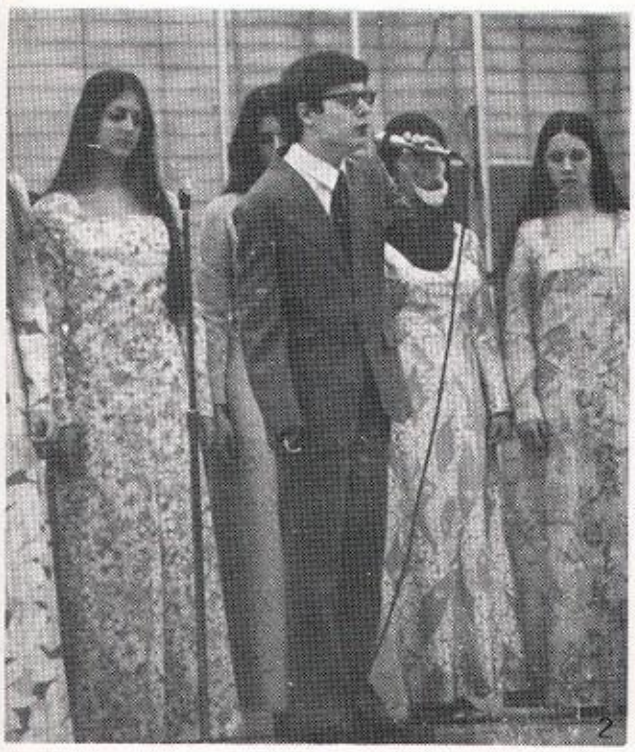
Garner Smith and John Newkirchen (3) wait for the serve in their doubles competition match. Eric Swanson (4) performs in singles competition.



Jazz Show, Ping Pong Get Great Returns

A new intramural sport was Ping Pong. Coach Mr. Ellis hopes the program continues every year. Forty teachers and students were involved either in singles or doubles competition. Singles champ waş Tom Meesrikul with Dave Rock second. In the doubles-singles combined tournament, Mr. Jack McPherson and Mr. Larry Galloway were victors.

"Celebrate" was the theme of the annual Jazz Show. The groups who performed were the Hi-Tones, Pop Chorale, and the Stage Band. Solos were performed by Nancy Stapnes, Tom Roberts, and Sandy Peterson. Another feature was "Lucrecia McEvil" interpreted by members of the modern dance class in a routine.

'Sails' and 'Dreams' Spring Dance Themes

"Sails in the Sunset" was the theme of the Senior Ball. With a setting of Shilshoe Bay, the dance took place at the Windjammer. King Tom O'Keefe and Queen Nancy Olson were crowned during a break in the evening. Chairman of the Ball was Arleen Feeney. The mood was set by "SM Unlimited."

Clouds with poems, birds, and streamers was the setting for the Junior Prom. "Steamboat" supplied the music for the evening. The theme of the semi-formal dance was "The Threshold of a Dream." King and Queen Jack Snedeker and Wendy Sneva reigned over the evening's activities.

A few of the people at Senior Ball relax and enjoy the atmosphere of the Windjammer (1). Senior Ball King Tom O'Keefe and Senior Ball Queen Nancy Olson (2) pause for a moment during the evening. Wendy Sneva and Jack Snedeker (3) smile happily after being crowned Junior Prom Queen and King. Juniors Karen Savage, Jay Charleston, Kathi Anderson, and Larry Hedman (4) meet over the punch bowl. Junior couples (5) dance to the sound of Steamboat, featuring Tom Klein. Couples (6) enjoy themselves at the Junior Prom.

Spring Dramas Explore Comedy and Tragedy

Spring drama brought the All School Play of "David and Lisa" and the Student-Faculty One-Acts.

The All School Play told the story of two mentally disturbed adolescents, David and Lisa. David, played by Rob Martinez, the only son of wealthy parents, is tortured by his mania against being touched. Lisa, played by Pam Taylor, has never known parental love and has developed a split personality. The play followed David and Lisa and their fellow students through a term at Berkley School under the guidance of psychiatrist Alan Swinford. The play was directed by Mrs. Liz Henson and student director Abbie Berry.

Many people became involved in this year's production of the Student-Faculty One-Acts. Featured was Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," arranged by Mrs. Liz Henson. "Mooncalf Mugford," directed by Debbie Lindsey, and the third act of the "Plaza Suite," directed by Suzi Besecker, were the other featured one-acts. Both students and faculty were combined in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Plaza Suite." The third annual one-acts ran for three nights.

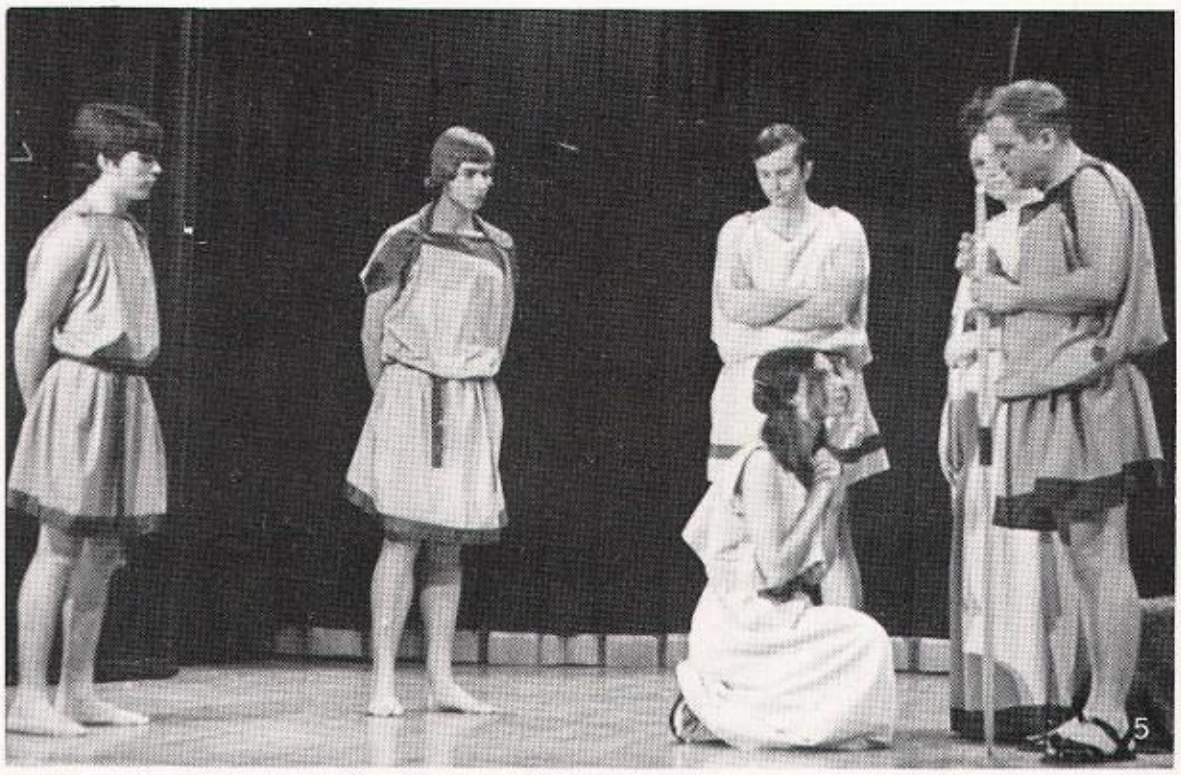
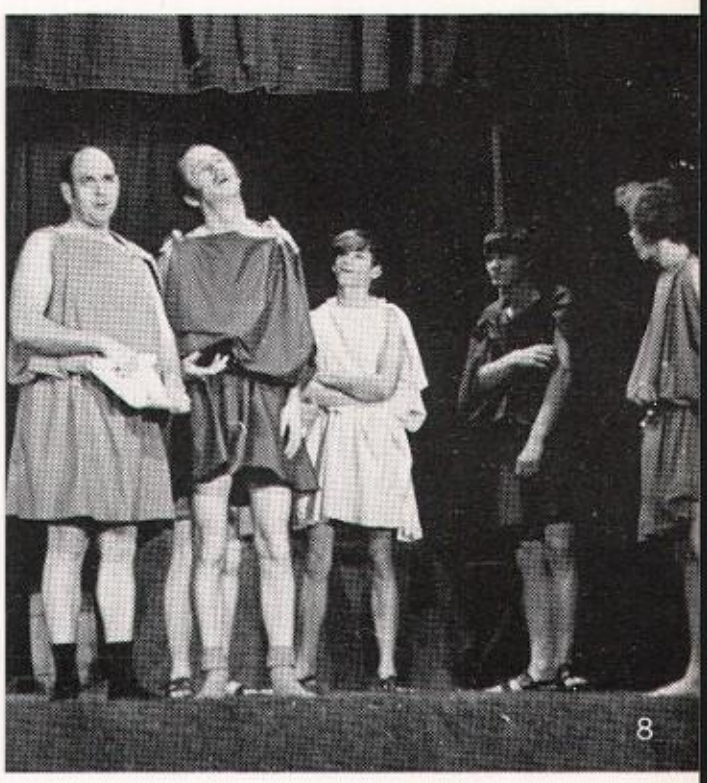
Hermia (Cathy Stern) pleads with Theseus (Mr. Bob White) not to force her into marrying Demetrius (Dean Kobernik) (5). She loves Lysander (Rob Martinez) but her father, Egeus (Mr. Doug Simpson), has promised her to Demetrius. Hippolyta (Mrs. Jane Ekberg) stands by.

In "Mooncalf Mugford," Etta Mugford (Debi Huffman) urges Tabby (Jeanette Arnett) to raise the price of the quilt she is trying to sell to Mrs. Lowell (Sandy Hinkle) (6). "What do you mean our daughter is locked in the bathroom?" shouts Roy (Mr. Bill Bourgeois) to his wife Norma (Mrs. Sue Preuninger) in "Plaza Suite" (7).

The Athenian tradesmen (8), Quince (Mr. Wally Tonstad), Bottom (Mr. Joe McNabb), Snout (Steve Westby), Starveling (Jerry Powers), and Snug (Chris Fish) put on a play for the wedding feast.





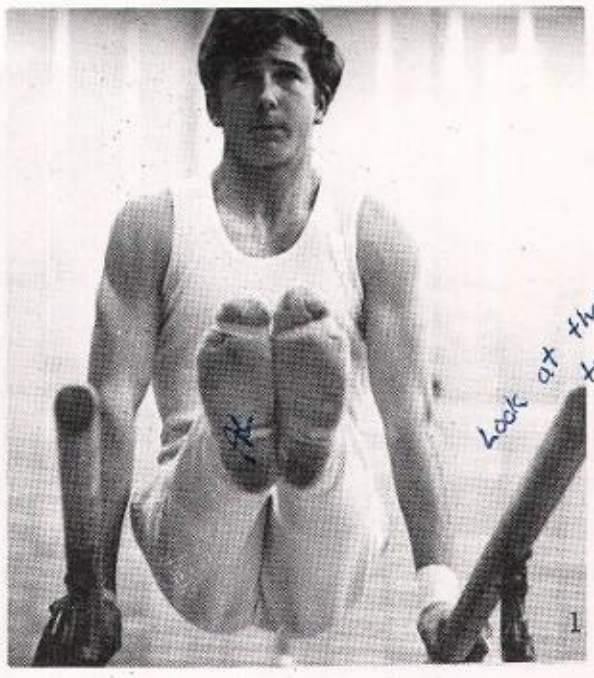
Individuals Get Together, Form Team Triumphs

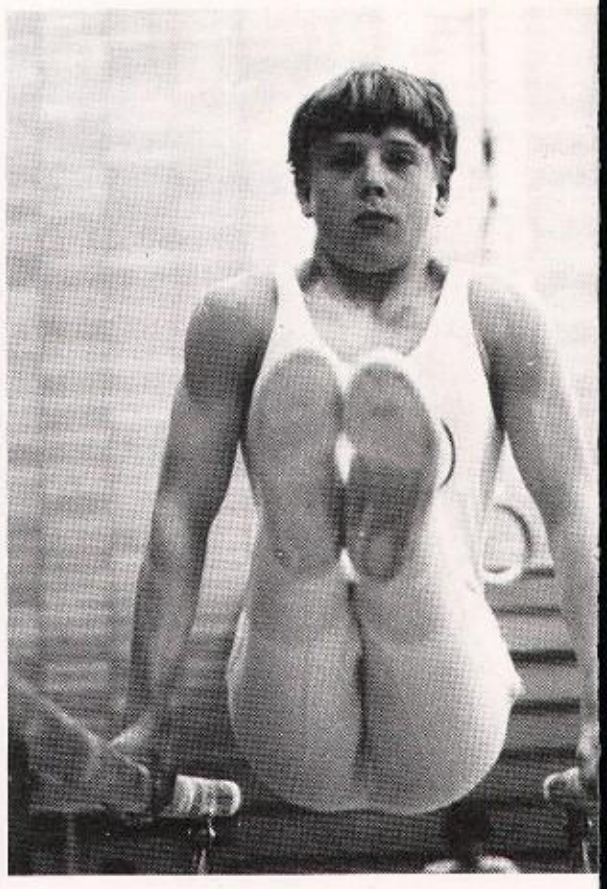
Under the direction of new head coach Bob Bosse and assistant Randy Wood, the gymnastics team found new boundaries. Turning out a nine meet winning streak along with a 7—1 league record, the squad proved to be contenders for post-season meets.

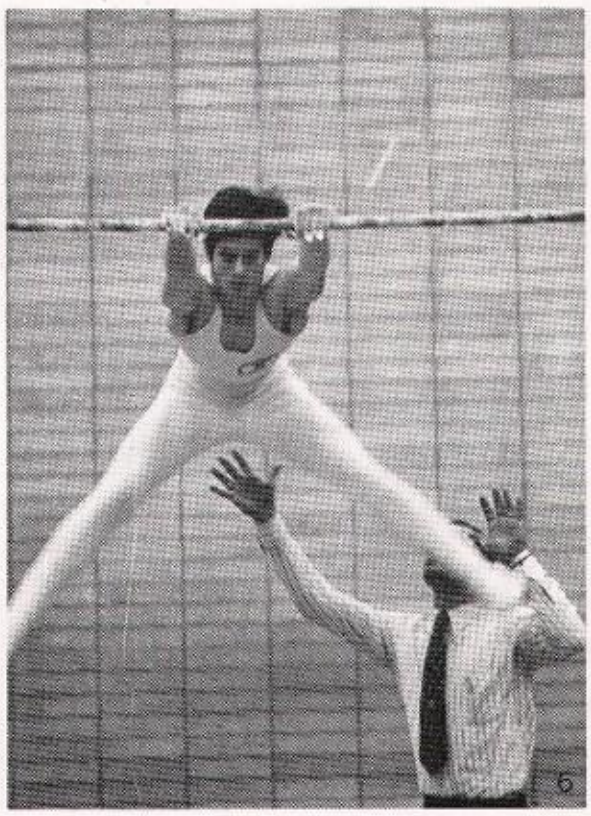
Keith Holeman, the squads all-around performer, was the key member of the squad. Holeman was considered one of the top in the league. Another junior, Mark Bernsten, carried some weight in floor ex. and vaulting. Sophomores Dale Greenwood and Mark Peterson, both basically all-around, also figured much in the team scoring.

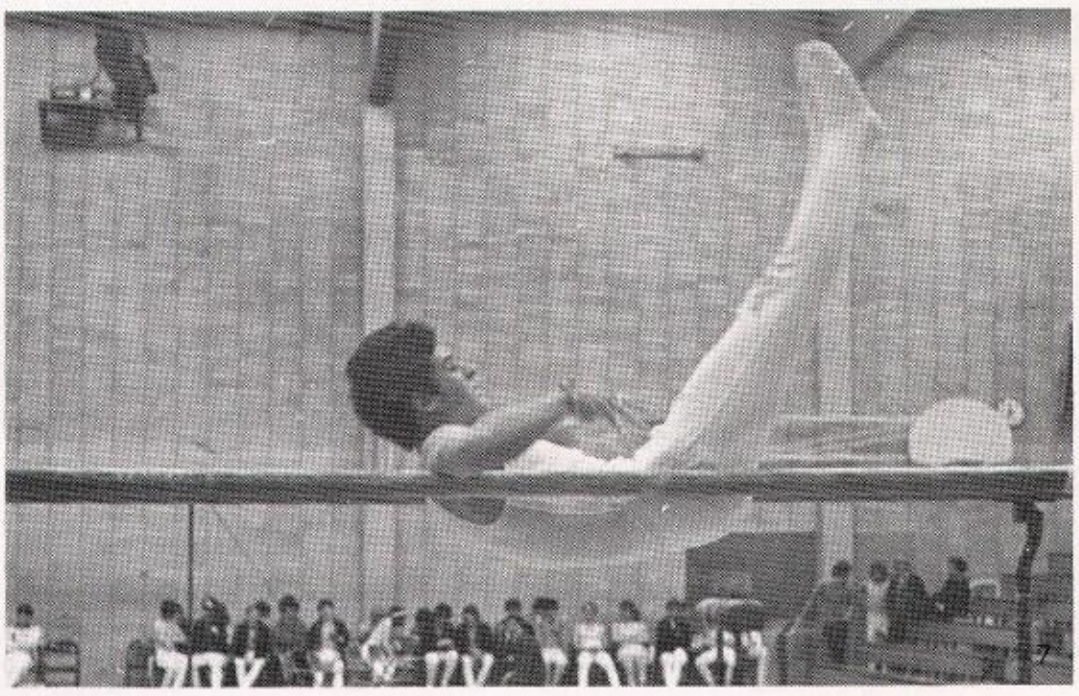
Through mid-season, three lifetime records fell out on the tennis courts. Never in the history of Issaquah High School has the tennis team won more than two league matches. The '71-'72 squad won five league contests through mid-season. Due to Coach Jim Bruno and a number of standouts, the squad for the first time in a number of years also had a winning season.

Standouts Ruxton and Ryan Doubt, along with Mike Kearsley and Mike Pagan, carried much of the load throughout the season.

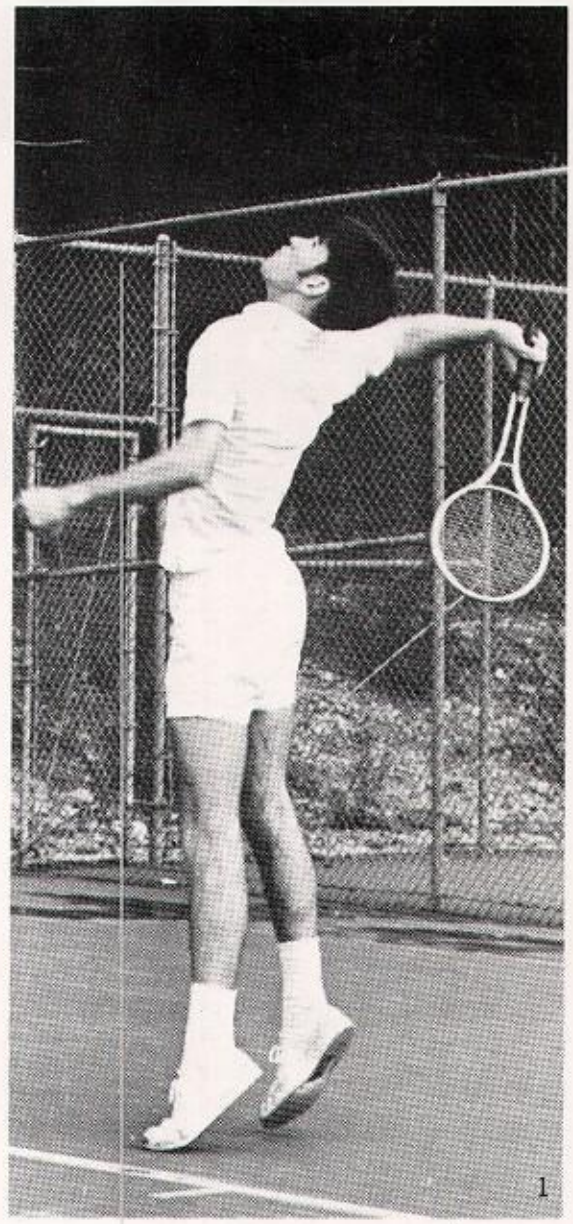


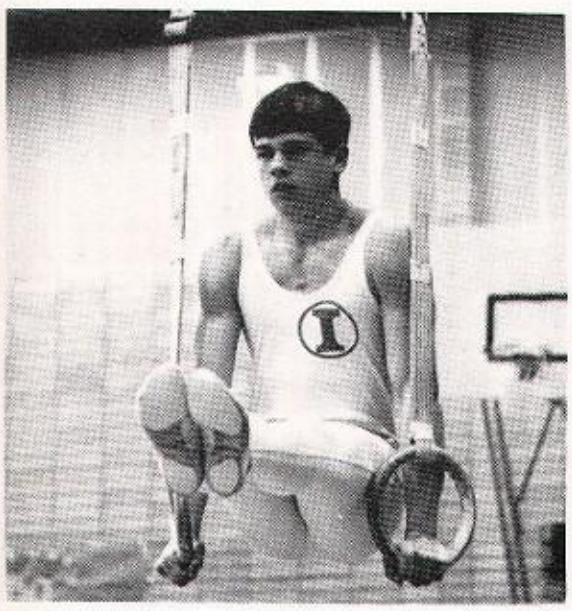


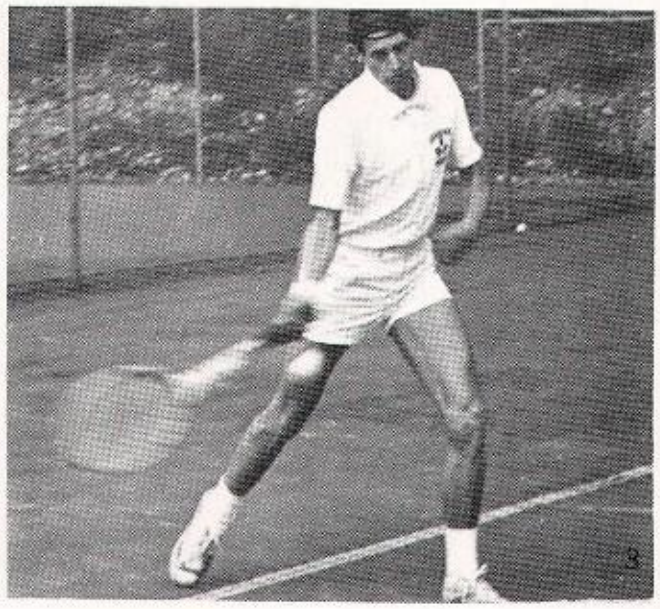


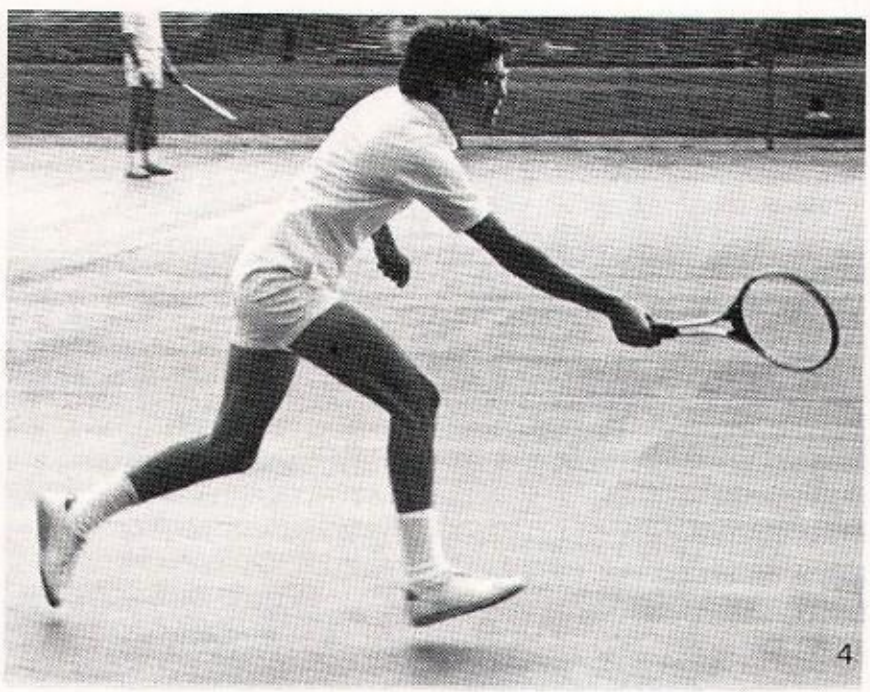


Al Fischer (1) performs on the parallel bars. Mark Peterson (2) performs on the parallel bars. Mark Bernstein(3) begins his routine on the rings with a power move. Ted Johnson (4) ends his performance with a power move. Dale Greenwood (5) executes a tricky move on the tramp. Dale, along with Peterson, are in their second year of competition although both sophomores. Team leader Keith Holeman (6) circles the horizontal bar with the help of coach Bob Bosse. Holeman (7), in one of his specialties, performs on the parallel bars. Keith was the team's all-round man for all meets.









Ryan Doubt (1) serves to an opponent in a match with Hazen High School. Ryan was consistently one of the top two men on the team. Mike Pagan (2), only a sophomore, displays his backhand in the same match. Mike Kearsley (3) returns a shot to an opponent. Mike added the much needed experience to the team. Team Leader Ruson also was a member of a doubles squad.

Diamond Nine Return After Early Woes

In mid-season, the "Diamond-men," as they were pegged, had a secure grip on second place in the south division. Starting the season with nine returning lettermen, the squad, both on and off the field, traveled a long way. Beginning things in Spokane, the club battled Ferris and Shadle Park High Schools in dual double-headers. The nine could only muster a win versus three defeats. Returning to the west side of the Cascades, the club took on Tahoma in a practice game only to drop it. The squad then started league play turning in a 5—3 mid-season mark.

Pink and Blue: Both Achieve Winning Season

In their second season of competition, the girls' track team emerged as a definite league power. The team was led by Junior, Jane Kearsley. She was the top point scorer and qualified for the state meet in Goldendale in all four of her events. Other top performers were Sue Roselli, Darlene Greenwood, Julie Cox, Diane Frederickson and Phylis Nuebell. The club was led mostly by Juniors and sophomores.

Issaquah's "Blue Machine" sputtered somewhat this year. With forces being depleted by graduation, the club was constantly rebuilding. Individual standouts were Stu Johnson in the long and triple jump, Jon Erickson in the shot put, Mike Foley with the discus, and Steve Ross in pole vault. Underclassmen took up most of the slack, with hopes of bringing future Issaquah triumphs.

Rich Hayes (1) crosses the finish line in the hundred yard dash. Stu Johnson (2) hands off to Jon Kilborn in the 440 relay. Brian Duncan (3), a consistent 880 man, looks as though he's lost in the pack. A prime example of individual effort, Stu Johnson (4) long jumps. John Erickson (5) was always at the top of the league in shot put. Issaquah runners Pat Talmadge, Randy Riebe and Lance Hymas (6) shoot out in the two-mile.

Dancing and Celebrating the Holidays

Celebrations of Fasching held in February and the Spanish Club Christmas Party held in January highlighted the year for both clubs.

At Fasching students dressed in costumes of their choice and danced German dances. Refreshments were also served.

The Spanish Club Christmas party was held at the home of Mrs. Petra Hansen. Later the group adjourned to the yard to try their luck at an old Mexican tradition, breaking a colorful Pinata filled with candy and souvenirs. Some of the members of the club also attended Fiesta Mexicana in March.

German students (1) perform a German folk dance. Mrs. Petra Hansen and Ted Johnson (2) listen for instructions on a folk dance. Dan Shearer and Mrs. Hansen (3) step to the tune of a German folk dance. Members of the Spanish Club (4) try their luck at a Pinata. Mrs. Gisela Kwast and Mrs. Hansen (5) make merry at Fasching. Luis Garcia (6) takes a whack at hitting the Pinata, at the Spanish Club Christmas party.

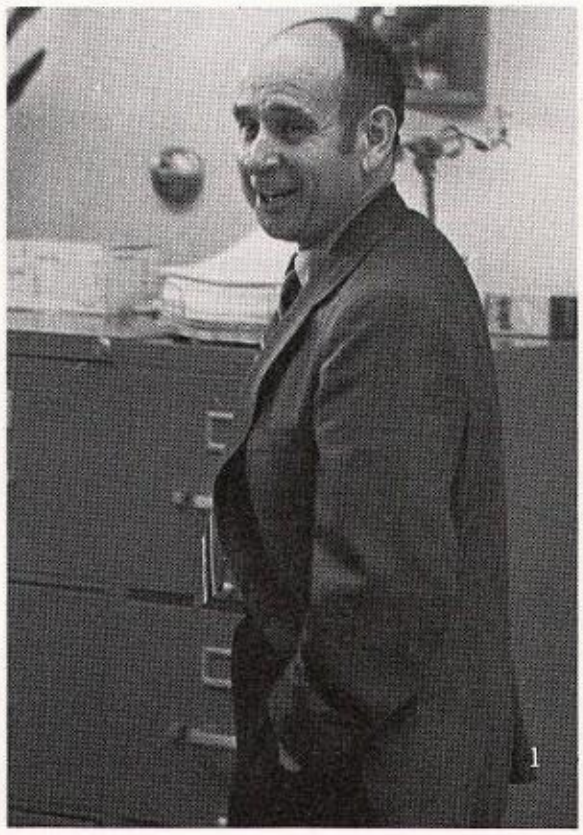
Varied Groups Administer School Duties

The operation of a school with 1450 students requires many services: the direction and coordination of a good administration; the advice of an informed counseling staff; janitorial, secretarial, nutritional services; and most important, excellent teaching.

Principal Charles Fallstrom and his staff oversaw the function of these student services, plus supervised ASB activities. In addition, the administration dealt with the age old problems of student smoking, tardiness, skipping, and for the first time, open lunch violations.

Several new programs concerning IHS students were approved by the 1971-72 Issaquah School Board; among them, Open Lunch and NJROTC.



Assistant Principal of Activities, Mr. Wally Tonstad (1), advises Student Council and enjoys cabinet making in his free time. The 1971-72 Issaquah School Board (2): (left to right) Mr. Grant Allison, Mrs. Fran Theodorson, Mrs. Dorli Raney, Mrs. Elaine Wolf, Mr. Don Johnson, Superintendent Clifton Johnson. Mr. Jack McPherson (3), Administrative Assistant, advises the Senior Class and Traffic Court. Principal Charles Fallstrom (4) enjoys hunting and fishing when not attending to his administrative duties. Colonel Bob White (5), in addition to being Assistant Principal of Disciplinary Affairs, is Athletic Director.

The administrative secretaries are Mrs. Gladys Lalanne (1) and Mrs. Martha Chute (2). Taking care of the attendence problem is Mrs. Jeanne Weddle (3). Mrs. Charlotte Freiheit (4) handles records of all A.S.B. funds. Skiing is the favorite pastime of counselor, Mr. Larry Galloway (5). Senior Counselor Mrs. Mary Pat Crane (6) gives advice to Bonnie Beremand while another counselor, Mr. Chuck Johnson, hams it up.

Student Needs Filled

Mrs. Virginia Phipps (1) enjoys counseling individual students. Besides the library, Miss Ann McLean (2) enjoys dancing. An avid sports fan, Mr. Tyrone Lakes (3) is the audio-visual man. Both new at Issaquah are our counseling secretaries, Mrs. Barbara Bass and Mrs. Sandy Morgan (4). Our lovable ladies, the cooks (5) are Mrs. Dana, Mrs. Halbert, Mrs. Hircko, Mrs. Crosby, Mrs. Lindsay, Mrs. Mitchell, and Mrs. Coxon. Making the library one of the most desirable place in the school are librarians (6), Mrs. Jan Dash and Mrs. Jeanne Llewellyn.

English Options Stir Student Enthusiasm

Specialization became the thesis for the English Department courses in the year 1971-72. Guided by teacher and student interests, Department Head Mr. Douglas Simpson and his staff put together a refined, individualized curriculum tailored for the trimester system. An offering of sixty courses aimed toward enrichment were provided to fulfill the student's five English requirements needed to graduate.

Requirements were divided into three catagories: oral communications, writing, and literature. Thus, after fulfilling his needed requirements, the student had the option to continue in English, for pleasure or college preparation, specializing in any one, or all categories.

Enthusiam prevailed as the English Department and Issaquah's second year on the trimester system merged to attract one of the school's largest enrollments.

Mrs. Liz Hensen (1) keeps herself busy by gardening, sewing, playing the piano and reading. When not otherwise cccupied, she advises Stage craft and the All School Play. Alan Reed listens intently as Senior Play and Thespian advisor, Mr. Gordon Warren (2), stresses a point. I-High-Times advisor, Mr. Douglas Simpson (3), looks on with Keith Orr as Phil Heft hams it up for the camera. Sophomore Class advisor, Miss Susan Hansen (4), enjoys skiing and hunting for antiques in her spare time. In her second year at Issaquah, Mrs. Sally Windom (5) is an Assistant Senior Class advisor and enjoys family hunting and fishing trips in her spare time. Keshani advisor, Mr. Leigh Wilson (6), also coaches the Sophomore powder puff team and the Campus Communications Committee.

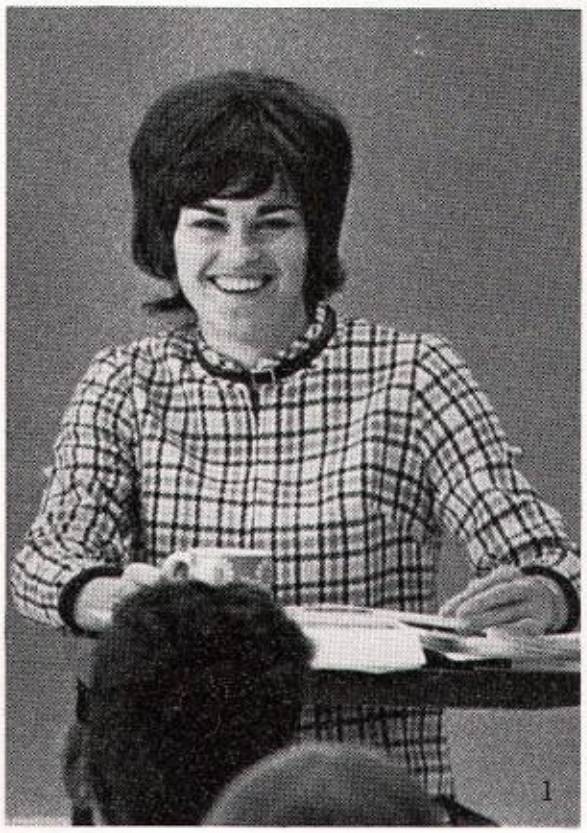
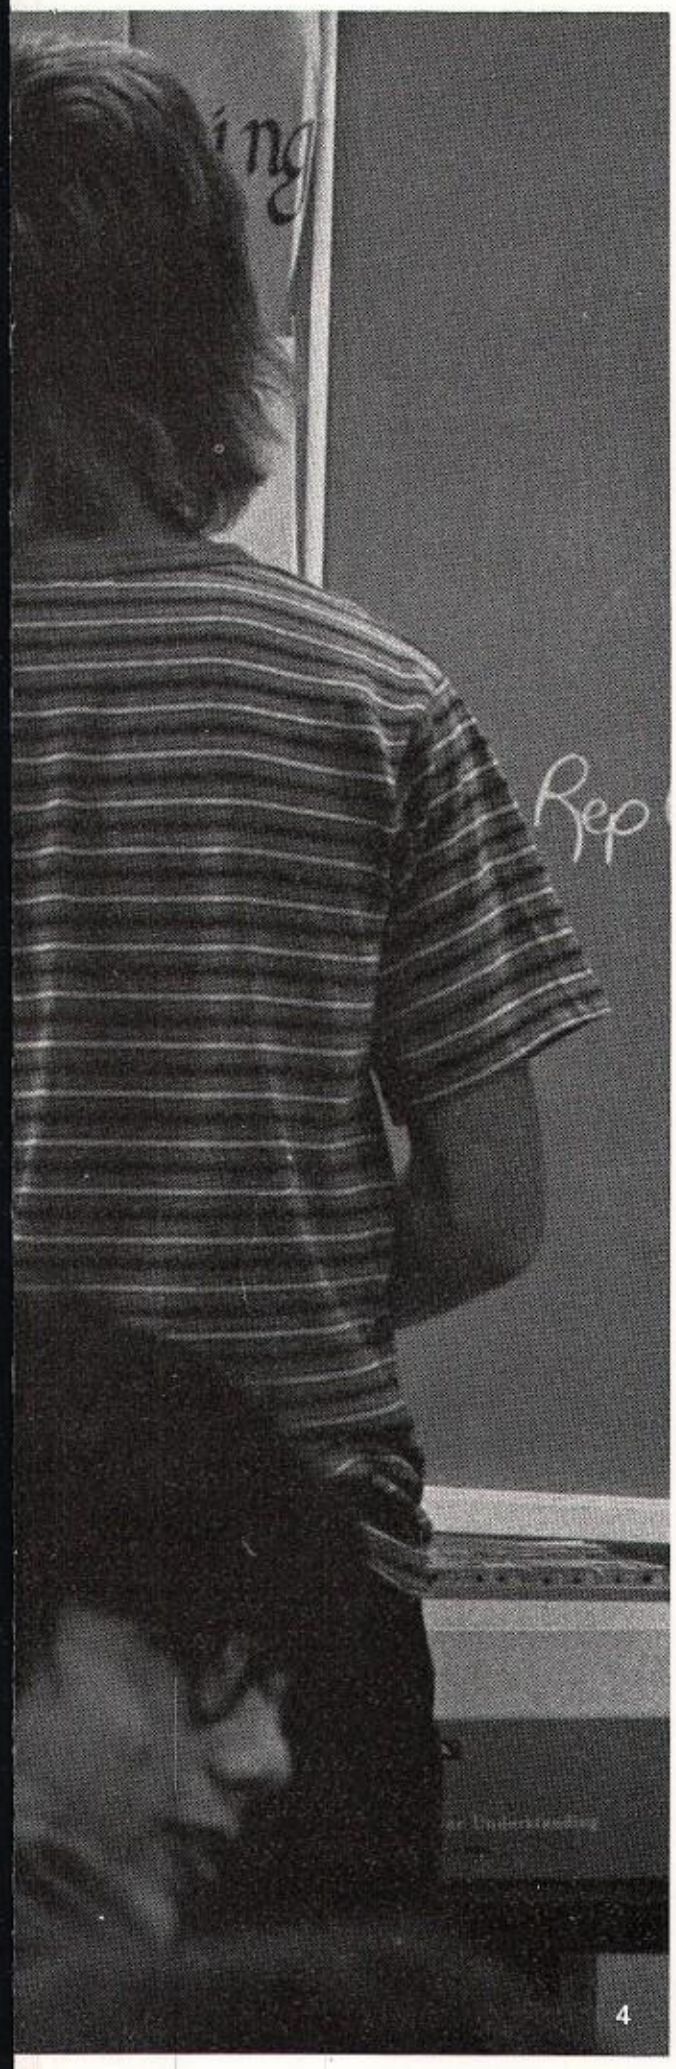
Variety Is Key Word





Drill Team advisor, Mrs. Cindy Tomchick (1), teaches FEAST and Modern Dance. New to IHS, Mrs. Christie McCombs (2) advises FTA and a Student Council committee. Her favorite classes are Essay Writing and American Lit. Assistant football coach, Mr. Dave Evans (3), enjoys teaching Science Fiction and Humor. In his spare time he likes to hunt. Pep Club advisor, Miss Linda Thompson (4), assists Don Graves. Mrs. Iris Anderson (5) looks over the books she uses in her American Lit. and Pleasure Lit. classes. Honor Society advisor, Mrs. Margaret Davis (6), enjoys grading papers in her spare time. Five year teacher, Mr. Dave Dion (7), advises the Musical, Lettermen's Club and is an assistant baseball coach. Snow and water skiing fill the free time of debate coach Mrs. June Phillips (8).

Mrs. Frances Crelly (1), Foreign Language department head, enjoys advising both the Spanish and the Thespian Club along with traveling. Besides advising the Senior Class and teaching Spanish, Mrs. Patton (2) enjoys hiking. Advising French Club and the National Honor Society keeps Mrs. Sue Ann Kendall (3) busy when she's not traveling.

Songs and Festivities Liven Language Classes

The combination of song and making merry provided the language classes with a more enjoyable atmosphere in which to learn a foreign language.

Slides, folk dancing, and singing competitions enlightened the students' outlook on the cultural understanding of the country. Emphasis was also placed on the use of the language in a practical situation. This was possible with the utilities of the language labs.

Students can take up to six years of Spanish and French, and up to three years of German and Latin in high school language classes.

When Mrs. Michele Mehus (4) isn't teaching French or advising French Club, you'll find her watching foreign films or reading. Yearbook and Latin are two of Mr. Joe McNabb's (5) most enjoyable classes. When not teaching German or advising German Club, Mrs. Gisela Kwast (6) spends her time assisting the cheerleaders. Mrs. Petra Hansen (7), a teacher of both German and Spanish, finds time to advise Pep Club and Spanish Club.

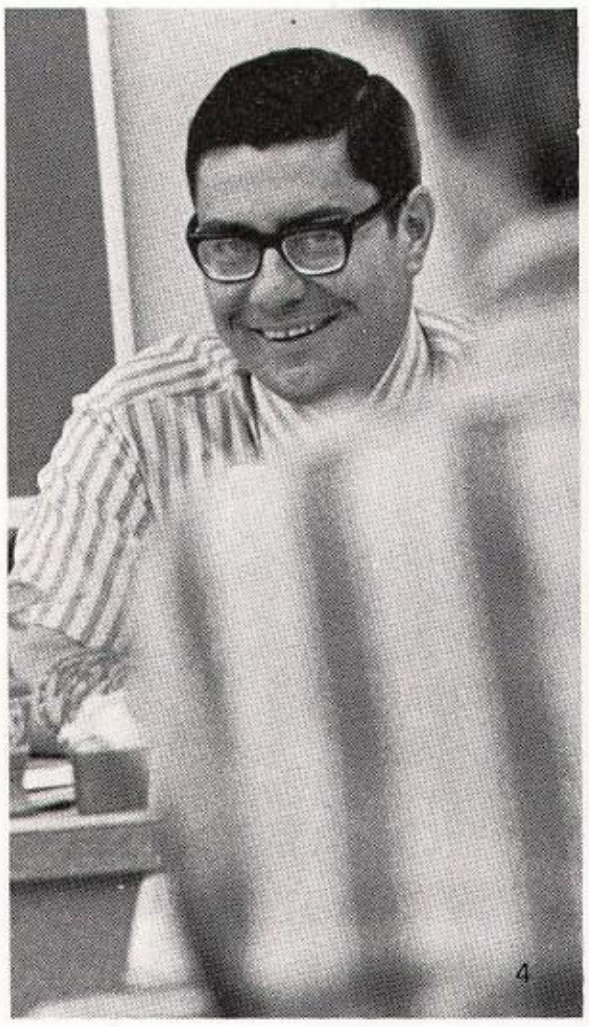
Broadening Our World Through Social Studies

A greater understanding of U.S. History and appreciation of today's governmental system were the main objectives of the Social Studies Department, under the direction of Mr. Robert Zimmerman.

In a united effort, each social studies instructor conveyed a relaxed, enjoyable atmosphere, hopefully in which the student could come tc a greater realization and understanding of his environment and the world around him.

Basic required courses and electives brought about this realization.



Mr. James Bruno (1) is kept busy coaching golf and tennis, and teaching U.S. History. Sports and U.S. History are the main interests of head basketball coach, Mr. Rich Brines (2). Mr. Joe Peterson (3) advises the Boys' Club and enjoys teaching Contemporary Issues. Teaching American History is a favorite of published author, Mr. William Hatch (4). Informality is stressed in Psychology classes with Mr. Arnold Keppler (5).

When not up on the slopes, avid ski enthusiast Mr. Mort Romstad (6) enjoys teaching U.S. History and Far East. Besides advising the Traffic Court, Department Head, Mr. Bob Zimmerman (7), likes to teach American Political Institutions. Head baseball coach, Mr. Paul Johnson (8), known as "P.J." to many of his students, teaches U.S. History. Advising the Senior Class leaves little spare time for American Political Institutions teacher, Mr. William Bourgeois (9).

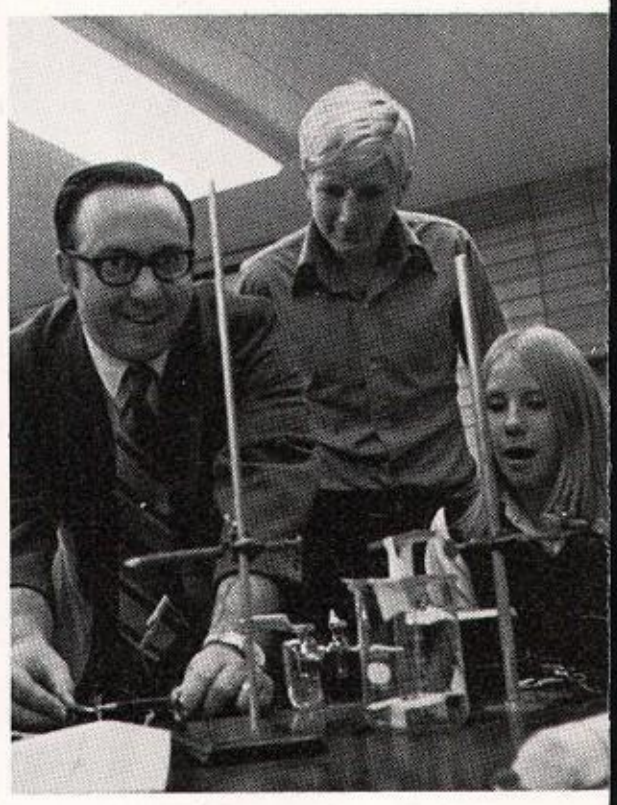
Science: A Search for Relevant Opportunities

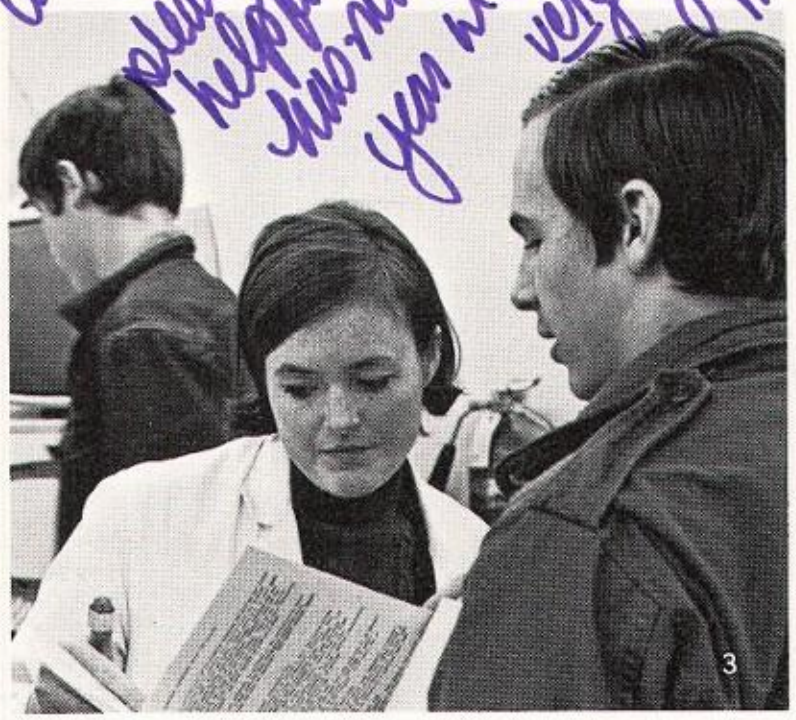


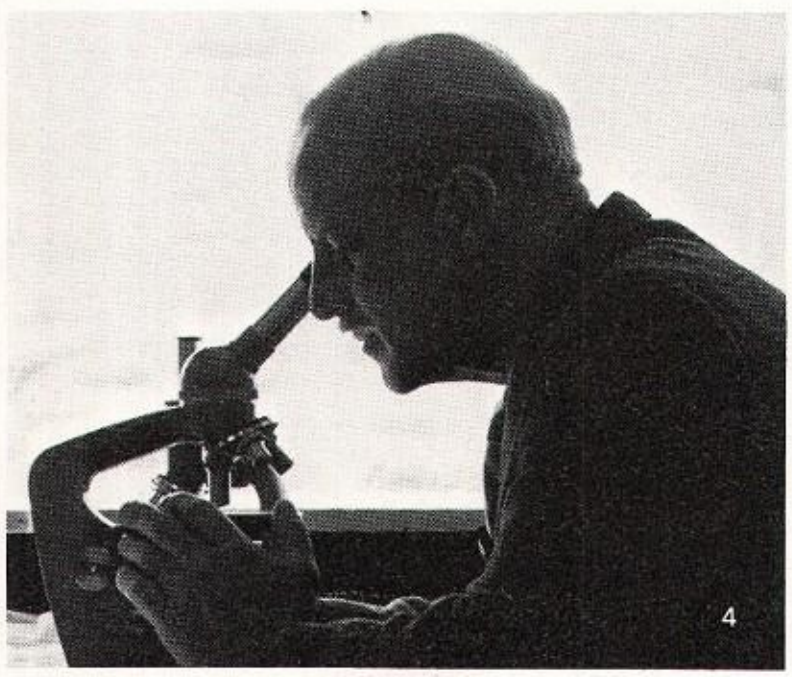
Vast scientific change, common to our era, intertwined with changes in the science curriculum at Issaquah. Two new courses under the scrutiny of department head, Mr. Dan Coyle, sought to expand and stimulate the student's scientific awareness.

Science Orientation exposed the sophomores to the three major sciences: physics, biology and chemistry. Hence, the student's aptitude was tested in each scientific field giving him the opportunity to specialize in one or advance in all the science theories.

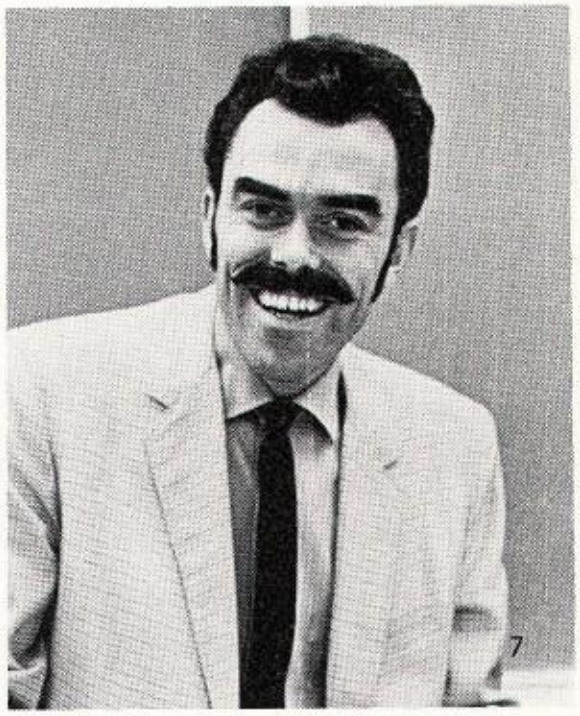
Consumer Chemistry emphasized the individual day-to-day chemistry, such as consumer chemistry purchasing. Rather than a theoretical approach, attention was placed on the practical use of science.

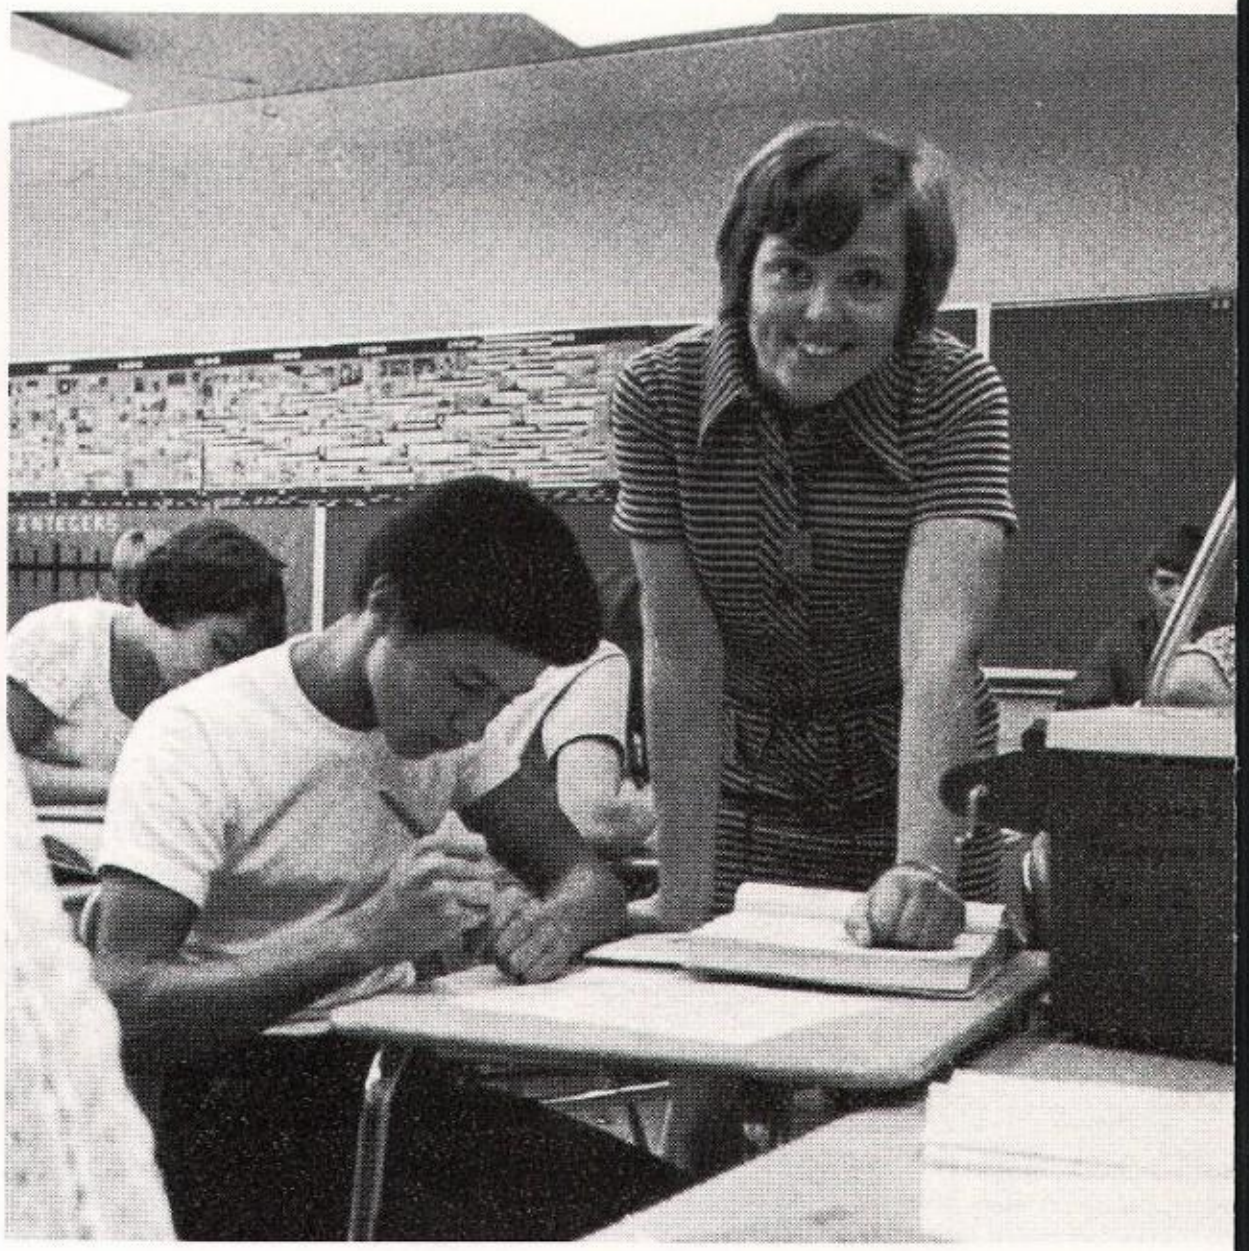
Dear Cindi - You're a very helpful & mature person - made this year in chem so much easier - You're very nice - & appreciated! Best wishes Mary Lowry





New to Issaquah, Mr. Les Harmon (1) taught Biology and coached wrestling and track. Chess Club advisor, Mr. John Ellis (2) does a physics experiment. A first year teacher at Issaquah, Miss Mary Lowry (3) enjoys skiing and hiking. Mr. Dan Coyle (4) considers boating and fishing his favorite pastimes. Introduction and Advanced Biology are the favorite classes of Mr. Henry Wiles (5). Mrs. Joan Melcher (6) demonstrates the caution needed in dangerous experiments. In his eighth year, Mr. Charles Cairncross (7) teaches Biology.





Classes Aim Students to Higher Goals

During the past year, a practical approach to problem solving and prevocational orientation were the main objectives of the Math department, under the direction of department head, Mr. Mike Dorough.

This approach was heavily stressed in all math classes, both basic and advanced. Non-essentials were dropped in hope of reinforcing the practical method, and at the same time, making the classes more enjoyable.

General Math, Senior Math, and Algebra, all basic courses, served as offerings to fulfill the student's two requirements. Geometry, Math Analyisis, and College Math prepared those going on to college.

Prevocational training provided on-the-job training for those students seeking math-oriented jobs after graduation.

Mrs. Sue Melchior (1) enjoys jogging and skiing. Her favorite classes are Algebra III and Senior Math. Department head Mr. Mike Dorough (2) sets the fashion style for male teachers at Issaquah. Along with teaching Geometry and Algebra, Miss Ann Joyce (3) spends her time swimming and playing tennis. This is her first year at Issaquah. Another new teacher is Mr. Robert Bosse (4), whose most enjoyable classes are Geometry and Algebra III. Mrs. Levi Query (5) instructs Computer Math and Trigonometry along with supervising the Special Events Committee. In her spare time she enjoys skiing and going on bicycle trips. Mr. Kevin Thomas' (6) favorite pastimes are playing football, basketball and teaching his prevocational class. College Math and Geometry are Mr. Ken Ruud's (7) classes. A ten year veteran at Issaquah, Mr. Ruud coaches Cross Country and Track. Prevocational teacher Mr. Joel Clark (8) is an assistant coach for the basketball team.

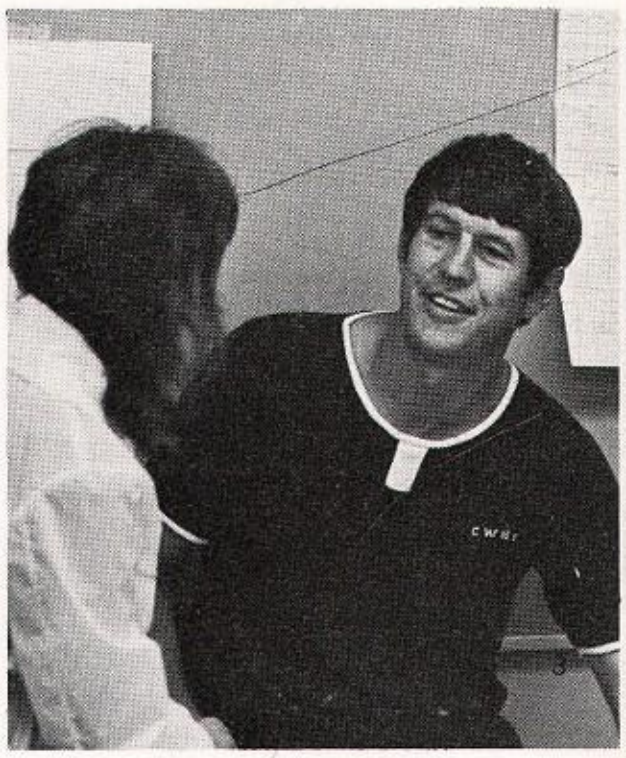
Art and Home Ec Cater to the Creative

Home Economics is the "scientific study of everything that goes on in the home," as defined by Home Ec. Department head, Mrs. Charlotte Frazier.

Under the tri-mester system, students showed an enthusiastic interest in Home Ec., probably because of the liberal rules governing course choices. Each girl needed three Home Ec. credits during her high school career, yet could choose her courses as electives. She could acquire skills in basic cooking, sewing, and childcare, or specialize in one.

More classes became co-educational as boys invaded Gourmet Cooking, Quick and Easy, and controlled one class by themselves, Bachelor Foods.

With the dab of a paintbrush, the turn of a wheel, and a cross of the fingers, art students let their creativity materialize. In order to deal with the creative student, the Art Department under the direction of Mr. Dale Hall, designed a program that could suit everyone. New courses offered were Fabric Design, Sculpture and Pottery 11.



Miss Theal Compton (1) enjoys skiing, swimming and cooking when she isn't teaching Commerical and Graphic Art and Printmaking. She also advises the Handbook Committee. Reading and traveling are the two leisurely activities that Mrs. Janis Church (2) enjoys in addition to teaching Ceramics and Leather. Mr. Dale Hall (3) coaches J.V. and Sophomore football teams. He teaches Art, and in his spare time he likes to ski, backpack and go sailing.

Mrs. Charlotte Frazier (4), head of the Home Ec. Department, teaches Clothing and Home Design. Besides being the advisor of the Equestrian Club, she also enjoys showing horses, hiking and reading. Mrs. Wendy Henderson (5) teaches FEAST I and FEAST II. She is the Girls' Club advisor and when not teaching, she enjoys reading and motorcycling with her husband. Added to a full day of teaching Tailoring and Dollar Sense, Mrs. Susan Preuninger (6) also directs Future Homemakers of America and enjoys sewing, knitting, crocheting, and traveling.

First year teacher, Mrs. Jane Ekberg (7) advises C.I.H.U. and the Echo Glen Swim Program. Her favorite class is Child Development. Besides instructing Bachelor Foods and Home Decor, Mrs. Charlotte Tait (8) enjoys golf and skiing.

Girls' Lib Movement Hits Shop Classes

A shop class for girls was big news in the Industrial Arts Department. Home Repair and Maintainence was a class in which girls were exposed to home maintainence, such as plumbing, wiring, furniture refinishing and general knowledge of keeping a home.

A special feature of one of our vocational programs was that in which a Cabinet-making class taught several fifth and sixth graders from Clark Elementary the basic fundementals of cabinet making.

Business Education had a course in mind for every student. Using his advantages a student could participate in business classes all through high school, and find a good job upon graduation.

Mr. Douglas Crow (1) enjoys his Distributive Education Classes as well as doing house work with his wife. Mrs. Loyce Piercy (2), Business Department Head, finds time after school to do some gardening. Leading a busy life at school, Mrs. Norma Sunstad (3) also watches her ten year old son play Squirt Hockey. A Sophomore advisor, Mr. Randy Wood, bicycles in his spare time. Mr. Vern Lindquist (5) enjoys Typing and FEAST classes. Away from school music, sculpturing, woodcarving and water-skiiing take up his spare time. With thirty-one years of agricultural experience, Mr. Fred Frohs (6) squeezes in a little golf and fishing. Department Head, Mr. Kenneth Schmelzer (7) finds time for model railroading and railroad photography. Mr. Wes Baily (8), being an outdoorsman, teaches Metals, Leather, and Wood Shop. Aside from Boat Shop and Technical Drawing, Dale Christofferson (9) enjoys hunting, fishing and being with his family.

Performance Aspect High In Music, PE

Both individuality and team work are important factors in the P.E. and Music departments.

"It's not just the performing angle," commented Mr. William Klein, referring to the Music Department. "We also have classes like Music Theory and Folk Guitar." In Music Theory, students can learn to teach music as well as write their own.

With the addition of Weight Training to the male half of the P.E. curriculum, students worked on muscle building in 12 ways. To add a little gracefulness to the feminine side of Issaquah High, a Modern Dance class was offered.

These two, combined with others, such as individual and team sports for both boys and girls, made P.E. classes more profitable for all.

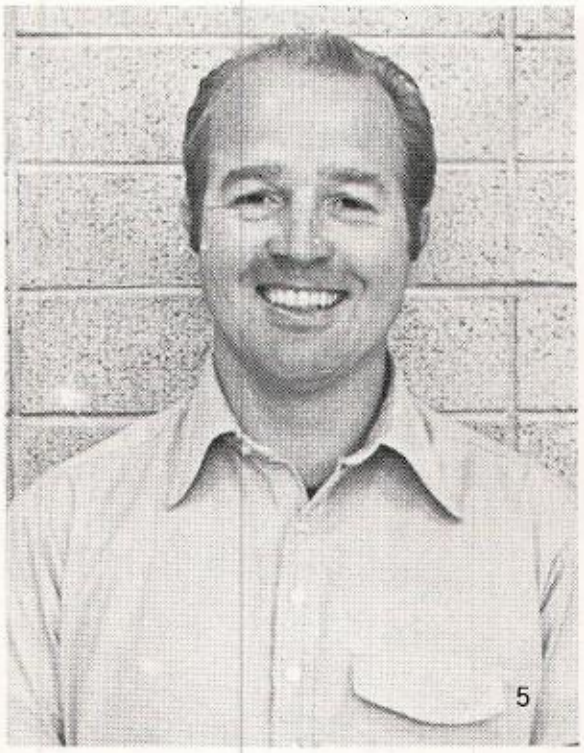
Mr. Glenn Lutzenhiser (1) enjoys directing Stage Band and Marching Band. When not teaching an enjoyable Weight Training class, head football coach Mr. Gary Moore (2) plays golf. Skiing and outdoor summer sports are favorites of Miss Jan Olson (3). In his 24th year at Issaquah, Mr. William Klein (4) especially enjoys Concert Chorale and Pop-Chorale.



Mr. Roger Wilson (5) was selected 1971 Track Coach of the Year in Washington. Outdoor sports take up the extra time of Mr. Wally Soland (6). Girls' Track Coach, Mrs. Anne Hartman (7) enjoys sewing and refinishing furniture. GAA advisor, Mrs. Charlotte Bottoms (8) instructs Driver's Ed. and P.E. A newcomer to Issaquah, Mr. John Perruca's (9) pastimes include hunting and fishing. Water sports and travel are outside interests of Health teacher, Mrs. Lynn Storrar (10).

Involved Sophomores Join into Activiteis

The Sophomore Class contributed to Issaquah's spirit by participating in many school activities. They were involved in many of the sports, the traditional Homecoming activities, and the sophomore girls made up the majority of Pep Club and Drill Team.

George Cox, President; Sue Small, Vice-President; and Joan Shinn, Secretary-Treasurer led the class well in their first year of high school. Mr. Randy Wood, Mrs. Levi Query, and Mr. Henry Wiles were helpful in advising the student officers.

Enthusiasm and hard work made 1971-72 a successful year for the class of '74. Their performance gives Issaquan something to look forward to in the upcoming years.

Individuality Activates Junior Class

The class of 73 proved to be comparatively strong in both individual and class activities.

The Juniors became actively strong during Homecoming Week by winning many top honors. In these were a first in the sign painting contest and a tie for first in the float competition. The Juniors also sponsored a chariot race, "Egg Put" and a face feed. Out of all the week's competitions the Juniors proved to remain a steadfast first all the way.

Individual participation became the main strength in the junior class. They became actively involved in seasonal events. Five Juniors, Dan Graham, Don Hover, Tim Reid, Bob Ross, and Larry Backstrom, aided the Indians on the gridiron. Lance Hymas and Dan Walker ranked top in cross country. In wrestling Juniors Chris Hyatt Tom Weinheimer, and Gary Chevalier amazed their teammates with their fine talent.

Besides the juniors' talent in sports activities, they lent a strong support to the school musical "Fiddler on The Roof" with Christy Coyle having a leading part and Sue Besecker being Student director.

Cakes were auctioned off at a basketball game to support the Junior Prom.

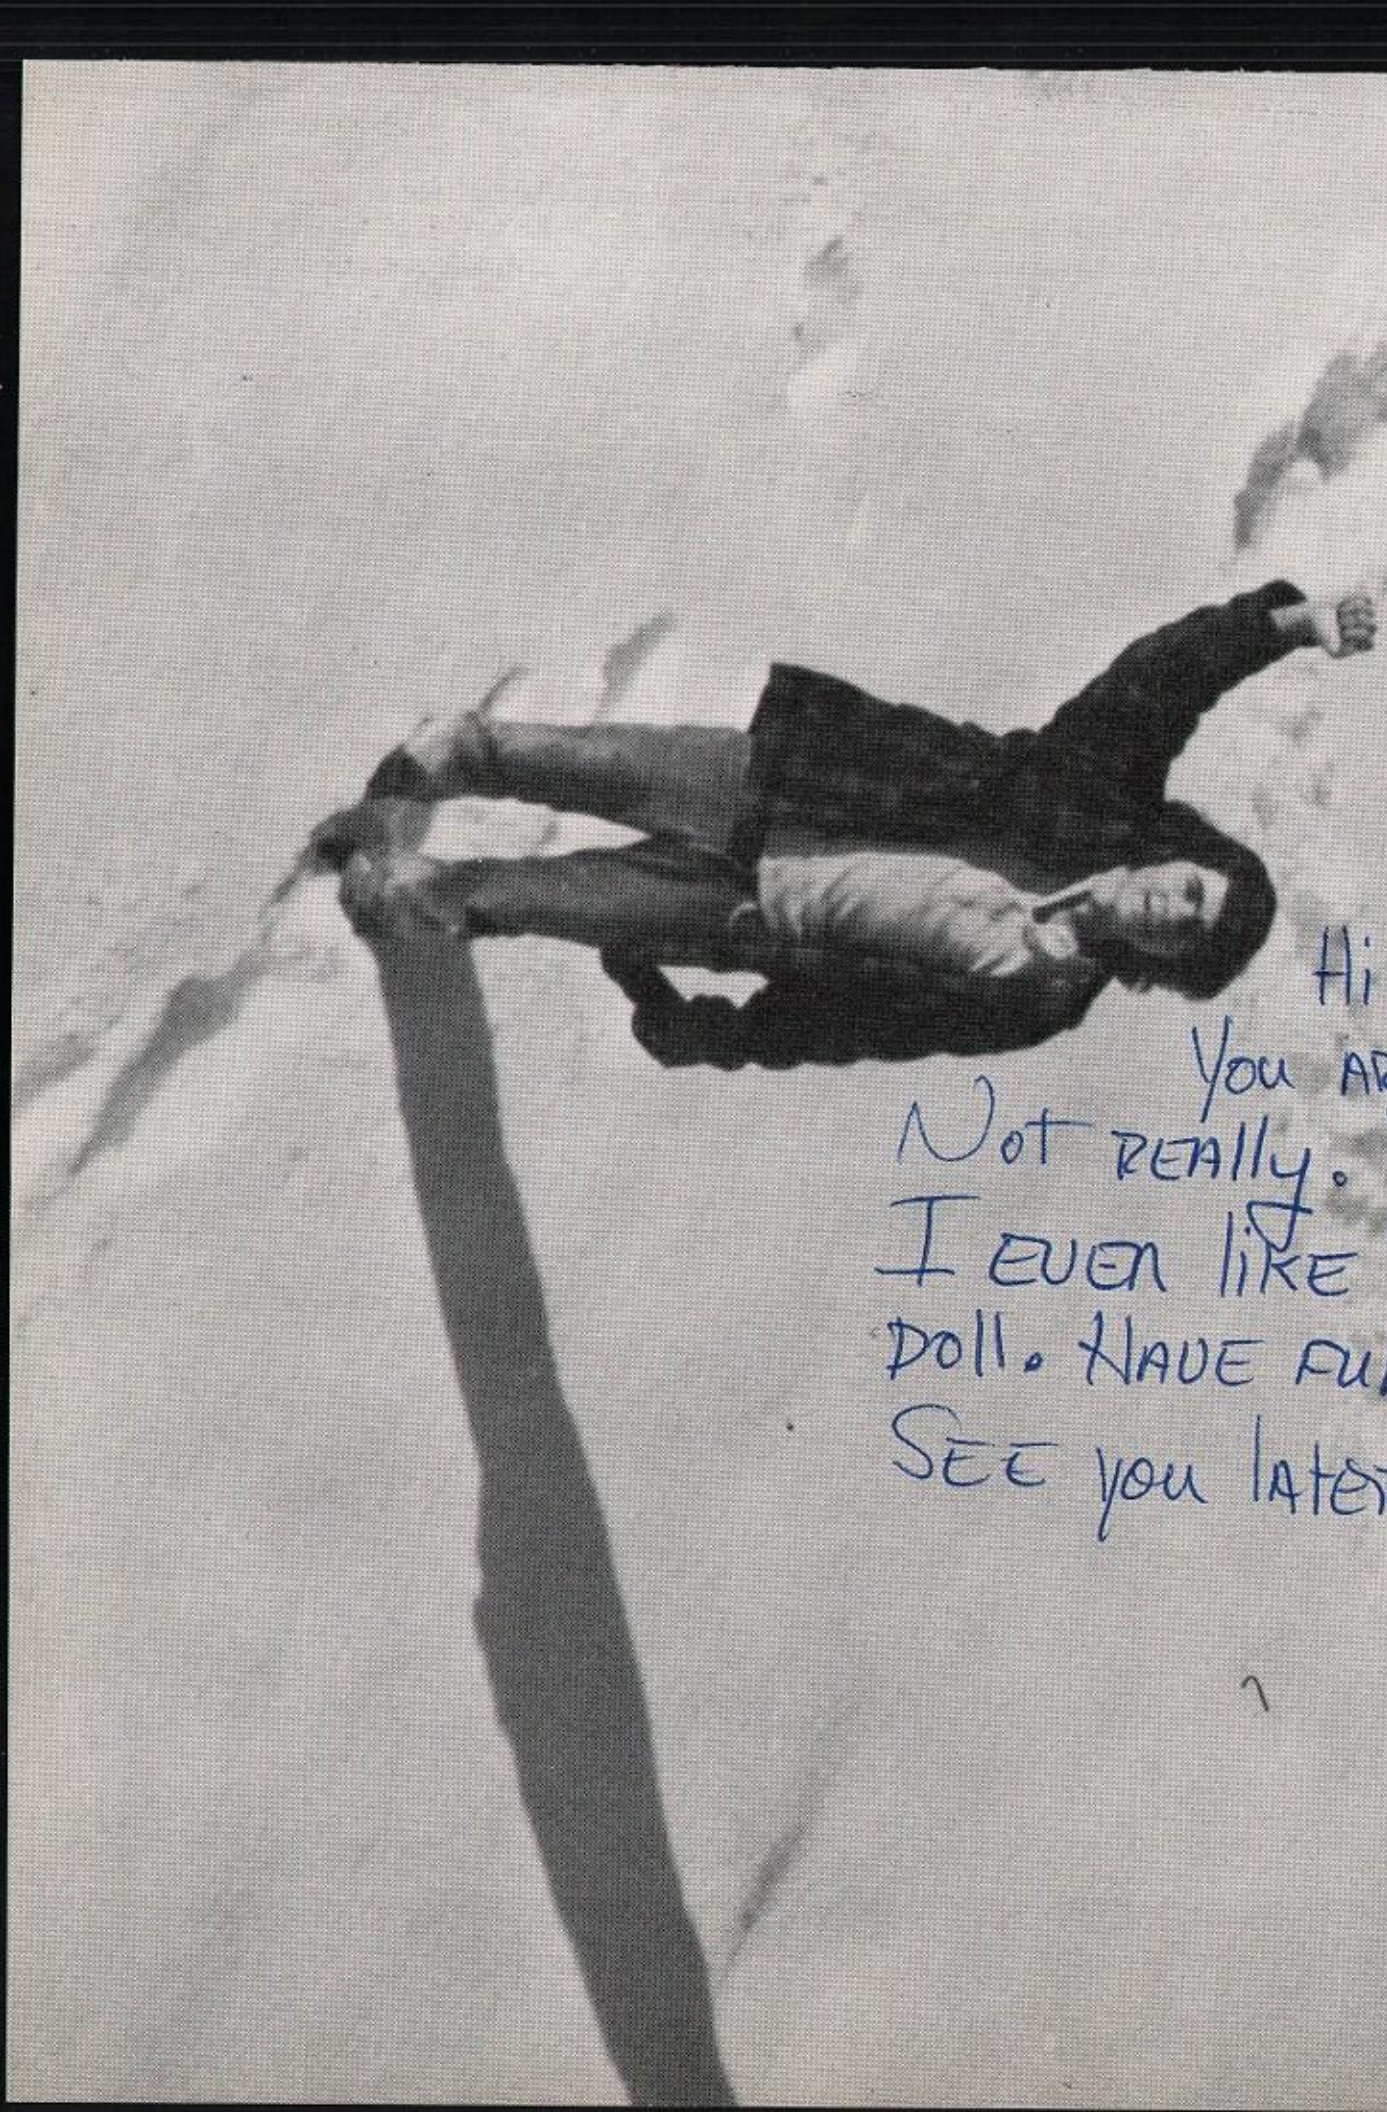
Well it was a weird year wasn't it? Next year will have to be better.
That lunch restraun was fun and remember what we said we were going to do? Well someday. Cindy you have such good taste in clothe and shoes (harampr!)
Laurel



Hi Berchtesgarten,
You are the thorn in a garden of pansies!
Not really. You are truly an enlightening spirit
I even like your braces. You are an adoreable doll. Have fun next year and be a success.
See you later. Leslie 72

Hail to '72!
The Class with Class

The class of '72 kept the traditional "Issy spirit" intact with endless enthusiasm and involvement.

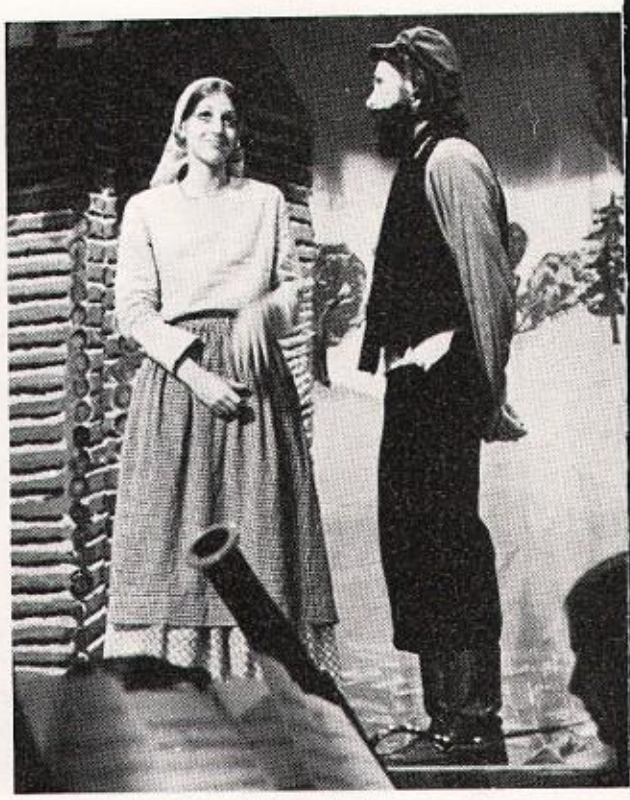
Many activities highlighted the year, some of which included the first annual dance marathon, Boy-girl basketball game, and a dating game on Valentines Day.

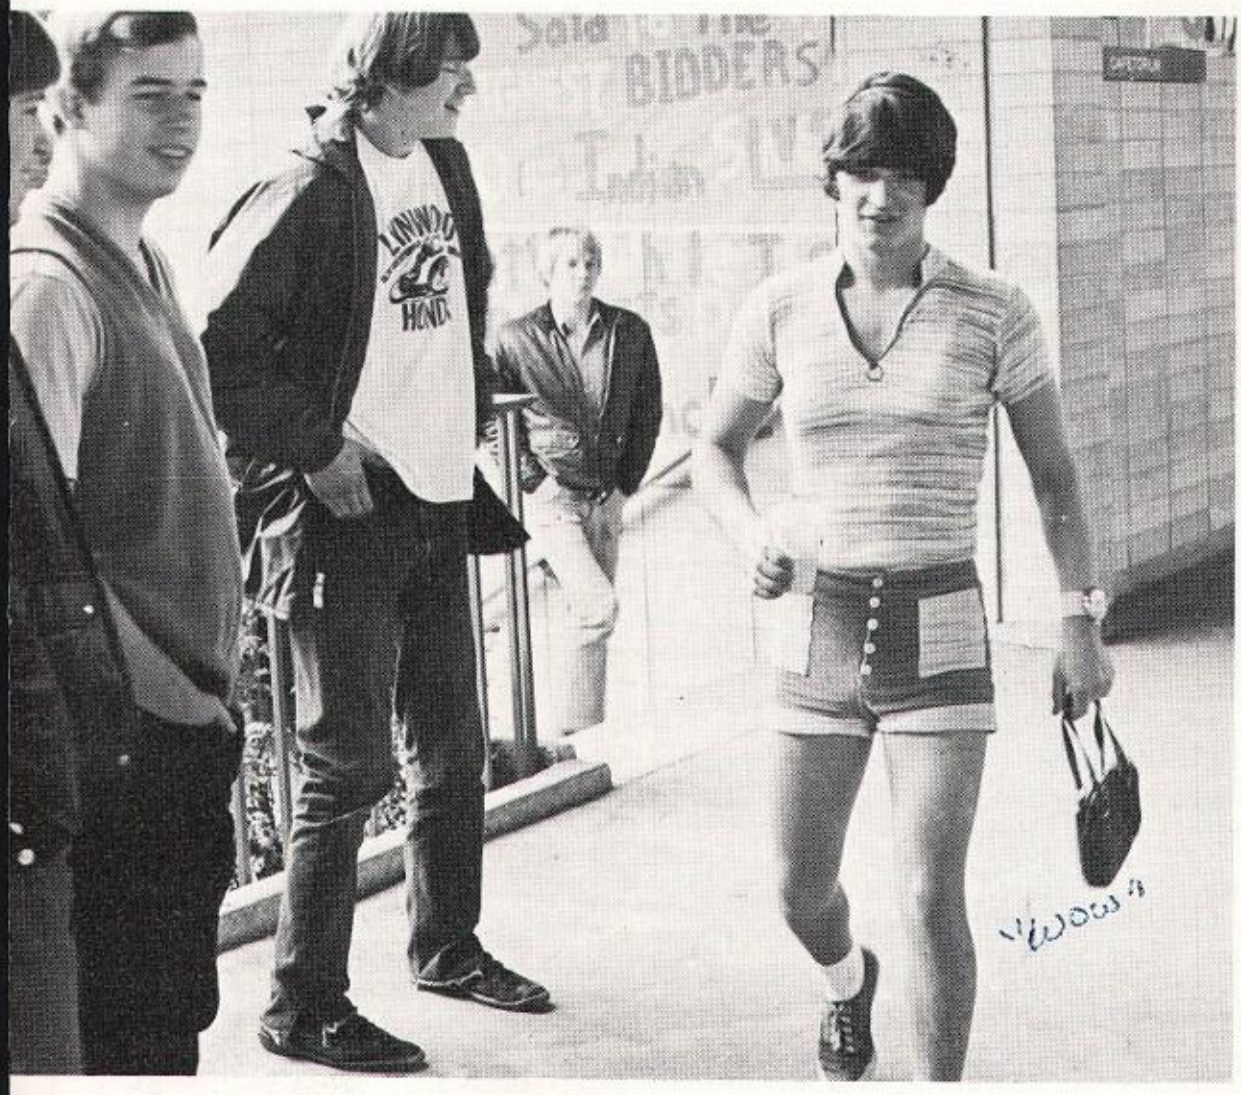
For the first time in senior history, the class officers had an office of their own. President of the class, Tom O'Keefe, was securely backed by Vic-presidnet Brian Duncan, secretary Leslie Tidball, and Treasurer Sue Anderson.

Also figuring very much in the picture was senior advisor Linda Patton. In the words of President Tom O'Keefe, "Without her we'd probably be back in our sophomore year."

One of the most rewarding experiences of the year was the involvement of so many seniors in Homecoming activities, especially the winning skit.

Senior class officers (1) Brian Duncan, Leslie Tidball, Sue Anderson, and Tom O'Keefe support each other in their efforts to guide the class. Michael Ushakoff (2) shows the superiority of Seniors as he stands high atop the tires around the flagpole. Kay Ray and Tom Monk (3) act out the parts of Golde and Tevye in the Musical.





"Hey, who's the new chick?" exclaim Stan Petett, Norm Wilson, and Neal Colingham (4) as they check out Lonnie Pedeferri. Mrs. Patton (5), senior class advisor, talks with Leslie Tidball and Chris Hanson during one of the rare moments when she isn't in flight. Mark Carr (6) contemplates the day's activities as a slave. The unity and brotherhood of Seniors is shown by Nan Cauthorn, Blake Wilson, Sally Chapin, and Brandon Peltola as they march off to class.

Cindy.
Hi cutie (you are
have gotten cute!)
well we'll have to get together and go everywhere
this summer - shit a few good parties etc etc
Im soo glad were still really good friends cos we were for ab long and so we should be now.
Youre really changed but in my opinion not your mother's cause all for the good!
Have fun this summer and don't be good or else you won't have any fun!
Ok. CALL ME
Love Barb
EX-KOLS

Cindy.
It has been a year since we graduated and every thing. Have fun time at Pine Lake. See ya next year.
Love, Laura Moon
(74)

Even though your a soph. Juniors are better "73"
How about coming
over this summer?
Have fun and get a good tan this summer for me.
Love
Roselli

Dear H_2O molecule; It was a fun year and great getting to know you. See you next year and maybe during the summer

Scott

Cindy
It was fun
In Chem this year
copying your work.
See you next year and this summer.

Mark

P.S. Stay out of sleeping bags

Cindy
Where are you going
Party at my house
Hope we have another blast
Let's all be there
We have a party
